Week 10 - With Only Four Weeks To Go EVERY Point Could Be The Difference Between Success And Failure

Back From The Brink

The Perry Men
Rush Green

Ossie Marches On.....

It could be the straw that broke the camels back but Rush Green now look destined for division 1 after they threw the lead away in this match to end up with nothing.

Ossie Ardiles got the home side off to the perfect start heading in a 7th minute cross. Rush Green responded immediately when Sammy Abell netted from the penalty spot a minute later. Kit Munroe then headed in his 4th of the season just 4 minutes into the break to send Trevor Isles' side in 2-1 up at the break and with real hope of the miracle escape.

It wasn't to be as The Perry Men turned the match around. Gary Lineker scored his 5th of the season with a long range effort on the hour and Jurgen Kilnsman broke away fans heart with the winner just 13 minutes from time from the penalty spot and lifts Fletchs side into the top 3 and surely sends Rush Green down to division one.

Mr. Ardiles pulled the cat out the bag placed it amongst the pigeons in an epic battle similar to that between the spartans and some others on the greek peninsula. (I'll have to check my history) When all was dark, when doom had prevailed over each and every one of the Perry Men, a light twinkled in the distance. As the second half progressed with every bit as much action as the first half, the light shone brighter, the twinkle grew two-fold to become a torch, which again grew thrice more to become a glaring beacon that dazzled the Rush Green, blinded them and rendered them useless in the face of a rejuvenated team that knew what it meant to stay in top flight, knew what it meant to be in the elite and refused to give up that prize that had been fought for time and time again. Now one must wonder what fate has left to offer the pitiful Rush Green, surely only a miracle from the Gods above can save them from a season in Limbo, the limbo that is Division 1. For The Perry Men the march goes on, this time taking the troops west, far west, where strange foods are eaten, ancient languages prevail and a nice cream tea can still be had. Beware of the light WestCunty Wankers, beware of the light!!

Back On Top

Egloshayle Park FC 2
Red Machine FC 1

Egloshayle storm back to the top, overturning leaders Red Machine in a tight match.

As you would expect neither side was giving much away in an extremely tight first half. Neill Whyte gave the leaders a 1-0 lead after 35 minutes to put Machine leading at the break.

Paul Rowes 5th of the season couldnt have come at a better time for the current champions as he headed in the equaliser with 17 minutes from time. Adam Lang received his second yellow with little over 10 minutes left and this spurred on the home side and in particular Anders Svensson, as his 82nd minute winner was enough to put Egloshayle back on top with 4 games remaining.

Best Performance To Date

Was the description from Egloshayle Park manager after his team went back to the top of the league following a 2-1 victory over leaders Red Machine.

"I have always said that the big difference between top and bottom teams are your striker's ability to finish, you may only get one chance in a game and you have to make it count. Red Machine's defence are well marshalled by Neil Sandford so we knew it would be tight. We had 3 chances in the whole match and buried 2 of them, enough to win this crucial game." said Mitchell.

"The real work starts now, we have a tough game in the Cup against Rising Cocks then, as Red Machine manager quite rightly pointed out, 3 away games out of the remaining 4. This time of the season there are no easy games, as it seems like the rest of the league will have one eye over their shoulder at relegation" said the massive cocked adonis.

Brawl Or Nothing

The Rising Deck 1
The Dark Destroyers 1

This match will be more remembered for the astonishing 10 yellow cards and 2 red cards which may mean both clubs stand up in front of the league committee and explain their actions.

There were no goals in the first half but there were 8 yellow cards as the referee needed eyes in the back of his head.

Andrew Mayne gave the home side what they wanted after 54 minutes, a 1-0 lead. Deck will be kicking themselves having not won this, particularly after player-manager Ian Mitchell missed a 70th minute penalty. Dick Dastardly managed to equalise just 13 minutes from time for much improved Destroyers.

Tempers did flare up with 10 minutes to go and both sides looking for the winner. Chris Angel got a red card for Deck with 10 minutes remaining and the Grim Reaper saw red with just 6 minutes to go.

Ballis Saves Wanderers

Westcountry Wanderers 2
FC Wazzy 2

There was, once again, very little to separate these two sides but it will be Westcountry Wanderers more the happier, coming back from 2 goals down to snatch a point.

Dudley Sawyer netted the opener for FC Wazzy, but they had to wait until the 39th minute.

Randy Alford made it 2-0 on the hour mark from a free-kick and Wanderers looked dead and buried. Kelsey Ballis reduced the deficit when he headed in after 67 minutes and the same man headed in once more just 10 minutes from time to snatch a draw. How important this solitary point will be for both teams come the end of the season, only time will tell.

Unhappy Wazzy boss

FC Wazzy Gaffer Paul Warren was fuming after his side gave away a well deserved 2 goal lead to finish their crucial league battle against the Wanderers in a draw. "If we want to stay in this league, we need to start taking advantage of all our good play. At 2-0 up with a little over 20 minutes to play, we should have been playing comfortable football and making the opposition do all the running. Unfortunately, we took our eye off the ball, literally, to concede two sloppy headed goals from 2 corners. This is simply not good enough. Our next 2 or 3 matches are 6 pointers with teams around us, before we play the top two. We need points on the board before those last 2 games else we will be in grave risk of relegation.

Quick quick, look at this Argentinians girls nipples.

LS Division 1 reports and reaction

Dozen He Do Well

Down Under And Out 4
Lewd Lewes FC 0

Division One hot-shot Ben Windsor claims his 11th and 12th goals of the season as Wookie sees off Davies.

Windsor started the demolition in the 6th minute with Joe Teale's long range effort making it 12-0 to the leaders after just 18 minutes. The home side were stronger in every department and went into half-time 3-0 up thanks to Sam Aistons 40th minute penalty.

Windsor added his second and 12th for the season just 4 minutes into the second half scoring direct from a free-kick.

Another Job Finely Executed

DUAO put 4 past Lewis to stay top of the league. In their second meeting in 4 days DUAO have brought their tally of goals to 7 with no reply from Lewis. With another encounter set for Sunday between the two clubs, the morale amongst the Rude Lewis Team must now be rock bottom. Ben Windsor was on form again to make his 12th league goal of the season which now puts him 6 goals clear of the nearest rival in the league. DUAO Manager, Wookie, had the following post match comment. "Another comfortable win, it's great to see my lads respond to my challenge, our strike rate is back where it should be, our defence impenetrable, our midfield dominant. As I predicted earlier in the season, the cracks are starting to appear in the chasing pack and we'll soon have day light between us."

DUAO currently look unstoppable and confidence in their squad must be soaring. However they have 2 tough league draws coming up, the first of which is against Hell Hounds who will be seeking revenge for their earlier league defeat at the hands of DUAO. But the Hounds, who's only chance of silverware now lies in the Cup, are currently caught up in a quarter final dog fight with arch enemy and current Cup holders DBTT.

Trent Hunt Down Promotion

The Irons 0
Down by the Trent 4

Down By The Trent are desperate to make it back in the bigtime next season and are well on the way thanks to a 4-0 win over The Irons.

Ronnie Bergmann made it 1-0 after 22 minutes and Zacharias Barkworth made it 2 merely a minute later. Bartholemew Askey made it 3-0 at halftime heading in on 33 minutes.

Bergmann grabbed his second and made it 4-0 just 6 minutes into the second half to secure Trent's 2nd placed position.

One Point Helps No-one

Hell Hounds 1
Earls Courtinas 1

With both teams in 3rd and 4th, maximum points was the order of the day so a draw will help neither side and both could spend another season in division one as a result.

Sammy Purse pocketed a 1-0 opener after 28 minutes to give Courtinas a 1-0 half time lead.

The lead only lasted 10 minutes into the second half as Txanton Gutterrez equalised for Hell Hounds. The Hounds outplayed their visitors but could not find that elusive breakthrough and although Courtinas could be in with an outside chance of promotion, Hell Hounds could well be staying in division one.

Sexual Ealing FC 3
Dynamo Des 1

As neither manager has logged in Im not writing a report.

*"If I were him I wouldn't worry about who's seen his crack or jimmy, it's who I saw him in the shower with" Was the retort thrown open by DUAO manager Wookie. Shortly after the League admin received this picture of a rather singed c*ck. Would the real owner please step forward.*

Park Prepare For Machine

Egloshayle are full-strength for their potential title-decider against Red Machine on Thursday and Egloshayle boss Mitchell has once again insisted that his side 'stand up and be counted'.

"We have 3 days of preparation for a huge game on Thursday, of course it is possible for the losers to still lift the trophy but Thursdays match will go a huge way to deciding it. People have told me the pressure is all on Red Machine, topping the league at present but I disagree. We have a 100% record at Egloshayle Road in both league and cup and Machine have not won in about 4 outings so I feel we are the inform side, therefore expected to win." Mitchell mused.

"I remember in the premiership the famous SAS Blackburn partnership that brought them the title. This season Machine have B&B, Bolam and Bonham have a great understanding and they will be a severe test for our defence. I will see how the squad trains in the next 3 days before picking my starting 11." he concluded.

Well Oiled Machine

Speaking from his massage parlour, I mean, massage table where he was being the once over by Holly Hot Lips (the clubs physio) after putting his team through another crueling training session, in preparation for Red Machine deadly partnership of Bolam and Bonham look forward to the title run in.

Thursdays encounter with EreWeSale Park FC.

"There is a lot of talk of pressure, and I don't believe it is on my team. If we lose, we lose, we will be trailing EarWeSale Park FC by a single point. Yes, we will be in second, BUT, let me point out a vital statistic that Criag Mitchell may have missed. EreWeSale Park FC has the second worst away record in the league, and their final four games of the season..... THREE of those are away from home!"

"The pressure will be on them! Their Manager Criag Mitchell has made a point that we haven't won in four outings. Well two of those have been in the Donald Duck Cup, and the remaining two have been two well earned draws in this difficult league. All is not doom & gloom at The Cauldron."

"Holly.....cut out the choking"

Comments Of A Worried Man

Egloshayle boss Mitchell was astonished by rival Manager Coochies apparent acceptance of defeat prior to his clubs crunch match against the champions.

"It seems he has already put plan 'B' into action by 'looking on the brightside' should his team face defeat at Egloshayle Road tomorrow." said Mitchell. "He has studied our fixtures and statistics for the remainder of the season and that is surely worrying for his team. The similarities between his actions and that of Liverpool boss Rafa are uncanny."

"The studying of statistics and fixtures, the calm exterior, and the unfortunate ability to throw away a lead at the top of the league to the present champions indicates a frightening resemblance - forget the 'Rafa Rant' we have 'Robbo Rant'" mused Mitchell.

Rumours are that Mitchell also has a 1% plan 'B'. Should the Machine scrape so much as a draw tomorrow, Mitchell, who is accommodating Couch this weekend, will simply piss in his sleeping bag.

Taking No Prisoners

That was the battle cry from DUAO Manager, Wookie as he rallied his troops in preparation for hosting Crude Lewis this afternoon.

"Battle lines have been drawn, our plans are simple...to win at any cost. Our tactics are dastardly, whilst the outcome is already written. We will prevail and we will show no mercy in doing so!"

After which Wookie disappeared down the tunnel to the sound of Wagner's Ride of the Valkyries blasting over the PA.

"You seen me in the shower Wookie!?"

...was what DBTT manager Phil Jory said after reading the wookmeisters recentmost release. "I thought my crack was kept well covered, obviously not? Perhaps there is a hole in my undergarment - yes this must be the daylight said Dr Wook must be referring to?!"

All Seeing 1 Dismisses Peeping Tom Jibe

The holy one, the son of God himself, DUAO Manager Wookie, took time out from quashing plagues and hurling fire and brimstone down on sinners to give the following comment on accusations made by

In The Press This Week

DDBT Manager Phil Jory.

"Have I seen him [Phil Jory] in the shower? Sure, I'm the all seeing! I see everything, but he's got nothing to worry about because even I, the all seeing one, couldn't see his jimmy as it's soooo tiny. If I were him I wouldn't worry about who's seen his crack or jimmy, it's who I saw him in the shower with! Picking up the soap for no other than our ever delightful League Administrator Craig Mitchell!!!!

Times are hard but honestly, have more faith in your side. You don't need to sink to Mitch's levels of depravity just to buy a few league wins!

Still in shock!

Another draw against FC Wazzy has left the Wanderers wandering where are they going wrong! Still in shock after yesterday game

Edwin Carden accidentally left a petrol station without paying, and was 5 miles away before he realised. Panicking, he returned to see if he could sort it out. Fortunately, he got there before the police arrived and paid for his fuel. As it was clearly an honest mistake, no action was taken, and Edwin Carden continued on his journey much relieved.

A trip to the back garden this weekend must end in a win for Wanderers boss Hewy as the fans are tired of score draws and Hewy's excuses!!!

Eglos-GAY-le Park

Valetines Romance

Any fellow managers want some bum sex?

Squeaky Bum Time

Perry Men manager McFletch was first to respond to the Valentine question posed by Eggsgonestale Park FC. 'It's an interesting question, is Mitch the minor offering his bum for sex due to a lack of Valentine's day action or is it just a general question to gauge the sexual preferences of fellow managers to be used in some underhand way in the closing stages of the season? Whatever it is, he's not getting an answer from me, and that's my final answer.'

Further Fuel To The Fire

Did anyone else see the Sunday Sport headline today "Graham Le Saux set to join Egoshalyle Park." Unlike the rest of the rag, maybe this was not a load of tits.

"I Wont Be Pressing Charges"

Was Egloshayle managers response to the hacking of Parks system yesterday.

"I have been entertaining potential new managers and catching up with Red Machine and Wanderers managers when I was distracted. Asked to leave my office I discovered on my return the clubs system had been hacked into and a Press Release pertaining to some Backstreet Butcher action released 'on the clubs behalf'" Its a valentines prank not on the scale of recent League take over proportions." commented Mitchell.

"We have tightened security at the Park and will not be taking any action. I can assure managers I am not a backstreet butcher and am simply a manager of champions." he concluded.

He was, however, reportedly disappointed by the lack of interest by other managers a close source said.

Wookies Nookie Retort

Sporting a stubble full of dried flange batter DBTT manager Phil Jory was astonished by Senor Wookies recentmost offering, adding "Acknowledging the fact that 'I may not have felt it', I can categorically deny that titchmitch has gone anywhere near my chocolate starfish and, thereupon, shoved my next shit back a fortnight. The irony in all this is in his recentmost magazine, our league rep offered a 'gay test' and yes I was that 'dood'at that back -damn I took my eye off those beauties!"

Dastardly Deeds For Back Garden Trip

Dark Destroyers star striker Richard Dastardly revealed that his team has more evil tricks up their sleeve as they bid to continue their unbeaten run at the home of FC Jazzy this week. The "Demons" have gained seven points from their last three games and - having scored his sides equalising goal to earn a point at "Riding Dick" last week - "Dick himself was in a confident mood. "We know that their boss "Sir" Warren is a master tactician but we have "secret tactics" of our own to spring on his team this week. They have played a game today (Sunday) which may have a bearing on his sides fitness levels while we will have had a week to prepare and get ourselves up to full fitness once more. Time will tell whether our decision to "opt-out" of the Cup (sponsored by e-con) this year to concentrate on league survival is a good one."

Wookie Spreads Himself Thin

Yes recent rumours are indeed true. After a startling debut season and an expert ranking breaking into triple figures, DUAO's Manager has been approached by one of the bigger clubs and asked whether he could help sort out the turmoil within their league. Don't fear, I'll still be around next season to claim the premiership crown.

Mitch - I'll get on the case with 2 managers...I have just the 2 reprobates in mind

Two goals in each half from Ronnie Bergmann was enough to put the holders through and a goalless draw between Rising Deck and Egloshayle Park was enough to see Park through where these two will meet in the semis.

A solitary goal from Horace Sandler was enough for FC Wazzy to put them through to a semi-final showdown with DUAO. DUAO marched on the semis with thanks to two goals from Terrance Shutt.

One Goal Between Them Over 180 Minutes

A well fort quarter-final between FC Wazzy and the Wanderers at The Back Garden concluded with a victory for the home side by a solitary goal.

Wazzy boss Paul Warren was looking very relieved as he headed for the shed after the final whistle. "Thank God for that!!" were his first words. "The game could not have been closer with possession and shot rate pretty even. Fortunately, we were able to convert one of our chances, while defending steadfastly at the other end. The opposition came here with a good attitude and gave us a run for our money. So much so, 'keeper Stu Parker was Man of the Match."

The boys from the 'Garden are beginning to look good now, but with the 2 division's top teams and last year's cup holders still in the competition, they will need to remain competitive if they want to reach the final AND secure a place in the top division next year.

Calling All Managers

I would like to ask all managers for, not only their commitment next season, but to also collectively consider who could join next season. The success of the league doesnt depend on the success of the managers, merely their commitment. This doesnt involve writing endless press releases, simply logging in and picking their teams would be a good start.

In the same breath I would like to ask managers who are finding it difficult to manage their teams due to time constraints etc. to help the managers who want to stay by holding their hands up and, dare I say it, offer their resignation. As much as I would like to have the same format I feel this season has highlighted just how un-inspiring it can be to have 2 non-existent managers and others that seem to log in once every 3 weeks or so. It is not a crime if you dont have the time (that rhymes) but it would be looked upon admirably if you helped those of us who are committed if you admit if youre not 'up for it'.

As it stands a the moment the league will have 14 teams next season (2 less than we currently have). If thats the case then we will have 2 divisions of 7. I dont know how the website will decide it but it COULD mean that THREE get relegated from the premiership, or only ONE gets promoted from division one. So, as you can see, it is in everyones interest to try and find two willing managers for season three, which will start around 7 weeks time. We have all been warned.
