Two 'Downs' Two Up

BUMPER
'2 WEEK
EDITION'
SPECIAL

Horace Sandler celebrates his and Wazzys second goal in their 2-0 win over The Perrymen, which ensured Wazzys premiership status.

They may not have realised it, but FC Wazzy became the only side outside the top two guaranteed of top flight football next season with a 2-0 victory over The Perrymen.

ANY two from the following 5 could get relegated (although the final format for both leagues will be unknown until next season).

The Rising Deck and The Perrymen realistically only need a point from their remaining games to ensure survival but it is slightly more worrying for the bottom three.

Although dead and buried several weeks ago, draws for Rush Green have put them in a position where 2 wins AND 2 defeats for both Destroyers and Wanderers will place them on level points for safety with goal difference playing a part, but this is a LONG shot.

Realistically the battle is between Destroyers and Wanderers. Destroyers, play Rush Green and Wanderers in their last 2 games and could send them both down. For Wanderers 2 draws may be enough as their last game, as previously mentioned, could possibly be the relegation decider in week 14.

In-Form Wazzy Ensure Safety

FC Wazzy 2
The Perry Men 0

Many would view this as an end of season mid-table meaningless game but both clubs could have guaranteed premiership status with a win. As it went it was in-form Cup finalists FC Wazzy who grabbed all 3 points.

Frederico started the scoring for the home side after his long range effort found the target after 31 minutes.

Horace Sandler made it 2-0 8 minutes into the second half to ensure Wazzy climbed to 3rd spot in the table but at what cost for both clubs. Star players Terrence Crooks for the home side and Gary Lineker for The Perrymen were both injured.

There are only two weeks of the season left and the first promotion / relegation issues were decided during this week.

Down Under And Out and Down By The Trent both secured there places back in the bigtime when they secured promotion from League Division One to the Premiership with two convincing wins, although who will be crowned champions is still undecided.

The Premiership is a little different. Egloshayle Park still top the table but are only 1 point above Red Machine as the two battle it out for the right to be crowned champions.

Crunch Time

The Perry Men failed to secure their place in top flight after losing away to the Wazzers. McFletch was philosophical about the defeat. 'Well, with the cuts I've made to the squad and the injuries suffered we had to change our system. This backfired and bozwoz capitalised. We're disappointed with our League place but quietly confident that we'll still be playing premiership football next season' The Perry Men now welcome league leaders EggShite Park FC to the lane looking to nick the point they need to guarantee survival. 'We still hope to have some say on where the title goes this year, and although I have no preference we will be doing our best to pick up all three points' side in the second minute, firing home from distance. Premiership top scorer Kirksaeter made it 7 for him this campaign when he equalised 5 minutes before the break.

Amazing Kreskin headed in a 64th minute cross to give the Deck a 2-1 lead but again this wasn't to last as Sammy Abell equalised with 18 minutes remaining. Time will tell if this was a continuation of the great escape, or simply a stay of execution.

mere 26 minutes play. Veteran Bobby Stokes completed the half, and indeed the match scoring, when he shot in the area with 5 minutes left of the first half. Wanderers now face a nail-biting end to the season flirting with a season in division one with two games left.

Two Little Too Late

The Rising Deck 2
Rush Green 2

Rush Green are now looking the part, have gelled as a team but it's a little too late one would fear. They are hanging onto premiership survival by their fingertips and did well to twice come from behind at The Orpheum to claim a point.

Park Push Wanderers On The Brink

Egloshayle Park FC 5
Westcountry Wanderers 0

Park looked the part at Egloshayle Road as they disposed of relegation threatened Wanderers with ease.

Bale gave the leaders a 1-0 lead after a clever set-piece free kick after 16 minutes with Paul Rowe bagging his 6th of the season and Parks 2nd of the match just 2 minutes later. Wanderers defender Stan Sharrock put through his own net after 23 minutes and Theo Walcott made it an incredible 4-0 after a

Machine Leave It Late Against Spirited Destroyers

Red Machine FC 1
The Dark Destroyers 0

There was little to choose from the sides from opposite ends of the table in a first half littered with bookings. Eight to be exact. Title hopefuls Red Machine had most of the play but neither side mustered any chances.

The Red Machine faithful had to wait until 3 minutes from time to ensure they kept pace at the top when Warren Bonham grabbed his 5th of the season, but a much more important 3 points for Couchs side.

Destroyers now face a tense finale as they have destiny in their own hands. Win both remaining games and they stay up. Simple as.

LS Division 1 reports and reaction

Down Under And Out Up Up And Away

Earls Courtinas 0
Down Under And Out 2

DUAO ensured promotion to the premiership with an impressive 2-0 away win at Earls Courtinas and made sure that Wookie (nicknamed 'The Mouth') can pit his wits against the League Supremes elite at the first time of asking.

Erool Stephens got the visitors off to the perfect start when he headed in a Vinnie Steele corner after 15 minutes, a lead they kept until half time.

Steven Simons made sure of the win and promotion heading in with 12 minutes left.

DUAO must now battle it out with DBBT for the title.

Celebration will have to wait

That was the message from the god like figure Wookie as he strolled into the press conference.

"We've done it! We've secured promotion with 2 games left to go! Get in there!!!!"

After doing a David Brent style dance in front of reporters, Wookie sat down and began to talk in a serious manner.

"Of course it helps when you're playing the Earls and Owen 'the gay bear' Campbell-bar doesn't show up. Still with promotion won I can now turn my attention to the Cup and FC Wazzy."

Reporters felt a chill in the room and imagined a giant red listless eye scouring the room and focusing upon FC Wazzy

"HmMMM Wookie mused... They had an easy ride here in the first leg; I was too preoccupied with the league. Well they'd better brace themselves to face an onslaught come Sunday. No more Mr nice guy...that cups got my name on it and if anyone stands in my way..... they're going to get hurt!"

Trent Back In The Big Time

Dynamo Des 0
Down by the Trent 4

Down By The Trent backed straight back to the premiership when they comfortably disposed of Dynamo Des 4-0.

Ronnie Bergmann made it 6 for the season after 24 minutes giving Phil Jorys side a 1-0 lead. Arthur Smith made it 2-0 on the half hour mark which gave Trnet a 2-0 half-time lead.

Zacharias Barkworth made it an impressive 7 for the season when he netted Trent's third on 58 minutes and added his 8th and his sides 4th with just 3 minutes remaining.

"mission accomplished"

was DBTT's manager Dubebox Jury comment after his side gained promotion to the premier league, adding "this was more than we could have dreamed of at the beginning of the season - there has been talk of a cup double, but we will have to raise our game after the first leg which was a "golden shower", they pissed all over us"

Lewd Loo-es

The Irons 0
Lewd Lewes FC 0

Lewd Lewes could go down as the only side not to beat a managerless side in a game of little interest.

Corrigans Late Winner

Sexual Ealing FC 3
Hell Hounds 2

Txanton started the scoring after 10 minutes when he netted for the Hounds to give the visitors the lead. Jimmy Page levelled matters after 19 minutes, heading in a Jimi Hendrix cross. Player-manager Paul Corrigan made it 2-1 to the homeside after 36 minutes only for Bill Westcroft to make it 2-2 just before the break, netting from an impressive free kick..

Both sides looked for a winner but it was Ealing who claimed all 3 points when Paul Doz Corrigans late long range effort winning the match with 10 minutes left.

Hounds manager Rose will be very disappointed with his side missing out on promotion and will look to make amends next season.

Red Snapper Anyone?

Wookiee Spreads Himself Thin

Yes recent rumours are indeed true. After a startling debut season and an expert ranking breaking into triple figures, DUAO's Manager has been approached by one of the bigger clubs and asked whether he could help sort out the turmoil within their league. Don't fear, I'll still be around next season to claim the premiership crown.

Mitch - I'll get on the case with 2 managers...I have just the 2 reprobates in mind Hold onto your hats.....

.....more contestants from planet Wookiee!!!!!!!!!!!!

"You couldn't make it up"

said DBTT manager Phil Jory after hearing the cup draw that pits his DBTT against Egloshayle Park adding "the last thing I wanted was to be facing a titch mitch Semi"

DUAO Focus on League Showdown

DUAO Manager Wookiee refuses to comment on the recent Cup draw. "My full concentration is on the coming league match against the Hounds. Unlike some teams, we're not scared of taking on anyone in the Cup, but first I want our 3 league points safely stashed. It's going to be a tough game away to the Hounds, they will be looking to salvage something from this season but it won't be our top spot!"

No room for Mabbutt

The Perry Men sensationally sacked long-time servant to the club Gary Mabbutt as they looked to ring in the changes prior to end of the season. Xpert Eleven reporter questioned the wisdom of disrupting team morale at the crucial end of the season. McFletch responded in an uncompromising manner, 'He's a fat cunt, and having diabetes is no excuse for playing like that week in and week out. We made our reasonable adjustments to accomodate his insulin injecting and Mars bar munching antics but enough is enough and now I've made the reasonable adjustment I've been meaning to make for some time' Duane Portway was also sacked in a busy day for The Perry Men. McFletch added, 'We're always looking to improve our team and today's changes are a firm commitment to the next season when we'll be looking to strengthen our team further.

Sorry

In the face of several complaints from the Diabetes UK not to mention a possible employee tribunal McFletch was quick to apologise for his recent press statement 'I would like to apologise for my comment regarding Gary Mabbutts diabetes and hope that no offence was caused to anyone with the aforementioned disease. I accept that anyone with diabetes can be a successful football player. I did infact sack Gary cause he was a shit defender and the diabetes was not a contributing factor. Oh, and he's a fat cunt.!'

McFletch has sent a box of fun-size chocolate bars to the Diabetes UK as way of apology.

Boss Slams Double Talk

Egloshayle boss has slammed reporters who have asked for comment regarding his sides double-winning chances.

"To talk of the double is dis-respectful to title-challengers in the premiership and the other 3 teams left in the cup. First of all there is DBBT in the cup, and for those of you who dont remember they are the holders and knocked us out enroute to lifting the trophy so I wont hear of any double talk from you or, god help them, any of my squad!" slammed Mitchell.

VIP for Cup

The League is under pressure to make the LS Cup more glamorous and less of a hinderence for teams after many bosses had dissed the cup this time round. Admittedly this has been from sore losers but the league has issued a statement that the LS Cup must not go down the route of the Carling Cup and be more like the covered FA Cup.

This could mean that VIP membership will be rewarded to future cup winners with also the privilege of naming/sponsoring the cup for the following season. Also clubs publicly foul-mouthing and dissing the LS Cup could be up in front of the league explaining their actions.

Mind games??

Wazzy boss paul Warren entered the shed for his weekly press conference in a good mood this lunchtime. "Thursday's match against the iceman's Destroyers will be a crucial and tight, but I predict here now, a victorious one."

Strong words from a man who had been clearing cat shite from the Back Garden all morning.

"we know that they have some good players and can turn on the style when they want to. it is our job to not let them and the best way is to play our own game. We know that pound-for-pound we are better than them and if we play to 85% potential, the 3 points will be ours. That said, we will give 100% until the final whistle."

Warren's confidence is clearly tangible but is it warrented??

"After plying the iceman with pints of Carlsburg last night in a local village Inn, his plans and tactics for the game slipped out, unknowingly. And for those that believe in fate, I won both of my pool games (taking my run to 14 wins from 16) while he lost one (of many) of his!!"

For Warren's sake, let's hope that the 'Destroyers, like striker D Dastardly who crashed his car after chasing pigeons, crash to defeat after chasing shadows around the Garden.

Grab'a Granny

Garth Redfearn was walking down the street when an old lady asked him to help her cross the road. He kindly obliged and was rewarded with a big hug and a peck on the cheek. He marched off whistling to himself and feeling good, blissfully unaware that the old lady had stolen his wallet. Like most players today, he is hideously overpaid so his form was not affected.

In The Press This Week

I don't always add these things but this one made me lol.

DUAO make Hush Puppies of Hounds

DUAO travelled to the hounds expecting a tough game but the hounds, for their part, rolled over and played dead.

Within 18 minutes DUAO had notched their first up. A wonderfully worked free kick from the league's top goal scorer Ben Windsor set Vinnie Steal up for a simple knock in. The home crowd were stunned into silence while the hound whimpered through rest of the half. DUAO had a disallowed goal and 2 very good chances go wide before Ben Windsor made it 2-0 on the stroke of half time.

As the second half begun, any animal lover would have been inclined to put the hounds out of their misery, but DUAO showed their merciless side and refused to ease up. The second half was dominated by DUAO with wave after wave of attack. Eventually one came to fruition a beautifully worked piece down the wing by Simon Stevens sets Chesley Gellar up for a simple nod in past the stranded keeper.

A late goal for the hounds did little to console them and left the final score line at 1-3. DUAO are now all but guaranteed promotion but DBTT are still clinging onto their coat tails and the battle for top spot looks like going down to the wire.

Good tactics or coincidence?

Last night we reported on Paul Warren's confidence over his team's game against the 'Destroyers and feared that his words might come back to haunt him. But it appears he was right and clearly had a plan he knew would work.

2 goals from striker Horrace Sandler and a screamer from outside the box from star player Terrance 'Garth' Crooks were enough to send Iceman's boys ever closer to division two.

2 goals from striker Horrace Sandler and a screamer from outside the box from star player Terrance 'Garth' Crooks were enough to send Iceman's boys ever closer to division two.

BUT... Whether this victory was down to great tactics and class of player, or whether the rare appearance of the sun in the first half played a major part, we do not know. Suffice to say, the away team did spend a lot of time shielding their eyes when facing the 'French Door End'. Although, listening to the whistles, they may have been distracted by the occasional appearance at the window by the missus of the Wazzy boss who has a reputation for trying for the all-over tan whenever the sun comes out!!

Tactics???? Coincidence???? You decide.

Exclusive Chat with Shy Introvert Wookie

SL News managed to secure an exclusive interview with the quiet wallflower. DUAO Manager, Wookie on his thoughts before the first leg of the Cup Semi Final.

So Wookie, we know you're a man of few words, but what do you think your chances are for the Semi-final clash with FC Wazzy?

"It's a bit of the unknown for me to be honest. FC Wazzy look good on paper, but their results seem unpredictable. As their recent form is improving, I'll be expecting a tough game. Once again we find ourselves the underdog against a stronger and more expensive side. But we've been here before, we are the giant killers remember? The slayers of the Red Army, and that should be enough to cast some doubt amongst their squad. Also Wookie Hole is no place for the faint hearted, so I'm pleased to tie the first leg here. We haven't lost a home game yet - both league and cup and that should make any team feel uncomfortable coming here. The pressure is on them.

It's my first season and, not wanting to count my chickens before they hatch, I feel I've accomplished what I set out to do - I've steered DUAO into the premiership - I just need to take 3 points from the last 3 games. The Cup has been a real experience for the lads and whatever happens from here, there'll be no hard feelings."

On the road

McFletch was clearly pleased as he walked into the press room with the smile of a Chesire Cat. 'I'm delighted with my players commitment, some will say that we were lucky to nick a draw 4 minutes into injury time but I think it showed our determination to fight until the final whistle' Gary Lineker preferred to focus on the next away game against the Wazzers. 'With the allegiances of both managers, this is probably as close as we get to a North London derby and I for one will be looking forward to trying to put one or two past them.' Narciso Campelo was asked what he thought of the next game, 'Well I'm a bit worried, I hear WozzaBozza's motto is 'In Arse we trust' so I'm a bit scared to visit his back garden'

DUAO stunned into silence

It's been a long time in the making but at last DUAO were stunned into silence by a superior side. It was a hard fought match at Wookie Hole, where DUAO had the majority of possession but were unable to breach FC Wazzy defences. FC Wazzy fired in a shot just before half time and managed to defend out the remainder of the game. DUAO Manager Wookie threw his toys out of his pram and stormed off the pitch missing the post match interview.

DUAO still need 3 points in the league to secure promotion and we wonder just how much damage, to team morale, this result will have?

Chieftan "Victim" of Underhamd Tactics

The chieftan was forced to acknowledge a clever piece of underhand skulduggery in the lead-up to last weeks costly defeat against rivals FC Wazzy. "I thought it was strange that "Sir" Wazzy kept on buying drinks on Tuesday evening but - hey - was I going to look a gift Van Nistelrooy in the mouth ? Not a chance!" he said, referring to a trip to St Mabyn city centre to engage in a critical pool encounter. "Unfortunately for me - due to the large quantity of alcohol being supped - I had to make a dash for a splash and - in the minute or so that I was gone - the swine read and studied my team sheet and tactics for the crunch game on Thursday. It was of course my own stupid fault for leaving my book of stats lying around but I have to take my bowler off to him for a clever piece of investigative investigating. he has obviously taken a leaf out of my book! But fair play to him and his team. They deserved their win. We will now turn our attentions to this weeks game and they won't come much tougher than a trip to title-chasing Rent Machine. But it's the sort of game that we will relish and we look forward to pitting our wits against them.

stares at his beloved dog - Sorry Pete the Pup your number's up!

Wookie's Woolie Conquests

Wookie, have you done all the sheep already? I'm impressed, I thought that would have taken you another couple of weeks at least.

No time for complacency

Paul Warren's pre-match conference from the shed was short, but important. "We have had a good few games and it would be easy to fall into the trap of thinking that we are going to win easily against the Perry Men. Football doesn't work like that!!! Our concentration levels, against a good team, need to be high until the final whistle. We will be tough, mentally and physically, but we will not allow ourselves to become complacent".

These were tough words from a manager who trusts in 'arse'!!!!!! And for the visit of a rumoured spurs fan, the front gates have been locked so the only entry into the Back Garden is around the Back!!

All Quiet on the Western Front

Another poor performance from the League Admin - again no magazine! How will I get my sexual satisfaction this week....Hmmm Wookie

Cautionary tale of too much paper

During contract negotiations, Sheldon Cole receives a very nasty paper cut on his left hand. Despite the pain, Sheldon Cole is able to walk unaided to the treatment room where emergency first aid is carried out, and Sheldon Cole is later passed as fit to play by the physio.

D-Day at "Doom"

The Dark Destroyers face their most crucial fixture in their history this week when they face fellow strugglers Rush Green at the Theatre of 'Hate'. The "Doom Merchants" were just minutes away from securing a vital away point at title-chasing Red Machine last week before conceding a cruel late goal. "It was - overall - a good solid performance" said full-back Fred West. "But unfortunately we need to realise that the game is not over until June Hicks has at least cleared her throat, and we suffered due to lack of concentration at a crucial time. We still have a chance but we know that anything less than a victory against the "Greenies" could see us joining them in the "Blue Square" league next season - something we will do all in our powers to avoid!" West has also called in his sides supprters to turn the Theatre into a hell-hole for the visitors again. "We know that this place is the most daunting place for many teams to visit and we need them (The fans) to get behind us and keep the fight going until the last game of the season (which could prove to be a winner-takes-all relegation decoder against West Country wanderers!)"

Calling All Managers

I would like to ask all managers for, not only their commitment next season, but to also collectively consider who could join next season. The success of the league doesnt depend on the success of the managers, merely their commitment. This doesnt involve writing endless press releases, simply logging in and picking their teams would be a good start.

In the same breath I would like to ask managers who are finding it difficult to manage their teams due to time constraints etc. to help the managers who want to stay by holding their hands up and, dare I say it, offer their resignation. As much as I would like to have the same format I feel this season has highlighted just how un-inspiring it can be to have 2 non-existent managers and others that seem to log in once every 3 weeks or so. It is not a crime if you dont have the time (that rhymes) but it would be looked upon admirably if you helped those of us who are committed if you admit if youre not 'up for it'.

As it stands a the moment the league will have 14 teams next season (2 less than we currently have). If thats the case then we will have 2 divisions of 7. I dont know how the website will decide it but it COULD mean that THREE get relegated from the premiership, or only ONE gets promoted from division one. So, as you can see, it is in everyones interest to try and find two willing managers for season three, which will start around 7 weeks time. We have all been warned.
