Park Bring Home Cup

Week 13 - Red Machine leapfrog Egloshayle Park and now have the title in their sites !!

Machine On Top As Park Are Held

Red Machine	2
FC Wazzy	1

Rob Couchs Red Machine stormed to the top of the Premiership and with just one week to go are odds-on to win the title.

Man-of -the-match Neill Whyte sent the home fans wild as early as the 18th minute when his direct free-kick found the net. In-form FC Wazzy replied in under 10 minutes when Dudley Sawyer headed in an equaliser after 27 minutes to go in at the break 1-1.

The Machine, indifferent of late, dominated proceedings at the Cauldron and limited a very good FC Wazzy to only one chance all game. This proved to be a deciding factor as eventually, Shaun Bunton found space in the box to score the eventual winner. The win puts Machine top after Egloshayle Park could only manage a draw at White Hot Lane and with their final game against already relegated Rush Green they can only throw it away now.

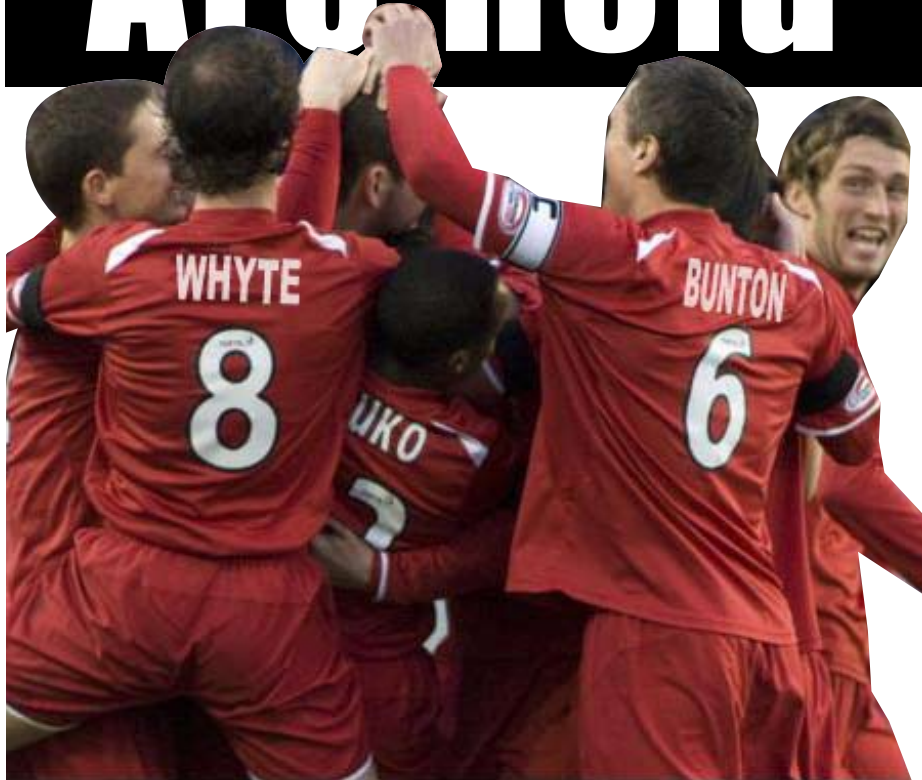

Perryman Seriously Dent Double Dreams

The Perryman	1
Egloshayle Park FC	1

Richard Fletchers The Perryman could have prevented Egloshayle Park from retaining the premiership title and a potential league and cup double when deservedly battled out a 1-1 draw at White Hot Lane.

Jurgen Klinsmann got the home side off to the perfect start in a half of very limited chances. He scored as early as the 1st minute. Matt Oakley equalised for the champions in a very tight half.

There were more chances in the second half but neither side could grab the winner although Matt LeTissier did find the net after 28 minutes only to find the goal disallowed. Park now need a minor miracle to retain the title.

Down And Out

Dark Destroyers 4
Rush Green 1

Any slim hopes of premiership survival died at the Theatre of Doom as Adrian Mitchells Dark Destroyers own great escape took another step to completion. This 4-1 win sets up a winner-takes-all final game against fellow strugglers Wanderers in their final match.

Marshall Bushell got Rush Green off to a good start when he netted after 8 minutes. Mike Tyson thought he equalised after 14 minutes only to see his goal disallowed.

Whatever half-time words were spoken, did the trick for the home side. Sid Vicious started the recovery after 51 minutes and woMan-of-the-match Anne Robinson made it 2-1 on the hour. Leagues top marksman Widar Kirkesaeter scored an own-goal after 75 minutes to give the home side a 3-1 lead. Greens scorer Bushell received his marching orders a minute later and Mike Tyson hit the final nail in Rush Greens coffin with 12 minutes later to set up next weeks survival showdown.

Maximo Impact

WestCountry Wanderers 2
Rising Deck 0

WestCountry Wanderers completed a valuable win against Rising Deck to ensure they only have to draw their final game to ensure their premiership survival.

Chances were few and far between in a very even first half but it was The Decks 'magic';

that wavered in the full 90 minutes.

Maximo Rimedio finally broke the deadlock with 10 minutes to go when he shot in the penalty area. Rimedio made sure of all 3 points when he headed in to make it 2-0 2 minutes into injury time to ensure the home fans celebrated St. Pirans day in fine fettle. They must do it all again tomorrow,

Top Two Win

Both promoted sides Down Under and Out and Down By The Trent both won their matches, beating Sexual Ealing and Lewd Lewes respectively.

Joe Teale and Steven Simons got both goals in Wookies 2-0 home win and Derrick Sawyer and a brace from Ronnie Bergmann (pictured below) gave Trent slim hope for grabbing top spot in their 3-0 home win.

Earls Courtinas beat Dynamo Des 3-0 with goals from Franklin Bushell, Sammy Purse and Ryan Chorlton and Hell Hounds beat The Irons 3-0 at home with Txanton (please change my name) Gutterrel and a brace from Jude Attenborough grabbing the goals.

Calling All Managers

I would like to ask all managers for, not only their commitment next season, but to also collectively consider who could join next season. The success of the league doesnt depend on the success of the managers, merely their commitment. This doesnt involve writing endless press releases, simply logging in and picking their teams would be a good start.

In the same breath I would like to ask managers who are finding it difficult to manage their teams due to time constraints etc. to help the managers who want to stay by holding their hands up and, dare I say it, offer their resignation. As much as I would like to have the same format I feel this season has highlighted just how un-inspiring it can be to have 2 non-existent managers and others that seem to log in once every 3 weeks or so. It is not a crime if you dont have the time (that rhymes) but it would be looked upon admirably if you helped those of us who are committed if you admit if youre not 'up for it'.

As it stands at the moment the league will have 14 teams next season (2 less than we currently have). If thats the case then we will have 2 divisions of 7. I dont know how the website will decide it but it COULD mean that THREE get relegated from the premiership, or only ONE gets promoted from division one. So, as you can see, it is in everyones interest to try and find two willing managers for season three, which will start around 7 weeks time. We have all been warned.

Waz all this then?

Further to Wookies cry of "access denied" (to xpert eleven and not some moist haven), further fuel has (or is) been added to the fire with the news that there were illegal betting patterns surrounding his sides defeat to the Wazza's on Sunday. Wazza manager 'hutch' was not available to comment, while his agent added that he had "not seen him since he started a recent HTML course".

- we could potentially win the league tomorrow, the cup on Sunday and complete The Double." said Mitchell.

"Whatever happens I am extremely proud of my squad and the way the professionals from last season have encouraged the local lads. We finish the season having won every match at Egloshayle Park, scoring 27 and conceding 9 in the process so the locals have certainly been spoiled and entertained" said Mitchell. "It is vital we try to improve on our away form and try our very best to bring home the league and cup trophies."

Our Finest Hour

Egloshayle Park FC player-boss-big knob Craig Mitchell today stated that the next 4 days could be his and his sides ' finest hour'.

"Red Machine are tight on our tail and with only 2 games left every point is vital, we have two very difficult away games. In-form FC Whizzy could potentially dash our league and/or cup hopes and are certainly more than capable of doing so, but we also have to be positive and look on the bright side of the coin Hit Man or Holiday?

As news fluttered into Wookie Hole that the recent Xpert 11 server crash may have been the work of the mysterious computer hacker know only as the Wazzler, Manger Wookie was nowhere to be seen.

DUAO press office stated that after the disappointment of DUAO's recent surprise

Cup exit, Wookie had decided to take a holiday. But an undisclosed source close to the club revealed that Wookie had booked an overnight flight to Pakistan to illicit the services of his old friend and pre season fitness coach Bin Laden.

Bin Laden who is allegedly visiting Pakistan for his keen interest in cricket was unable to deny or confirm Wookie whereabouts but gave the following short interview.

"My job here in Pakistan has come to a satisfactory completion and I now have some free time on my hands and a short trip abroad would be great for my constitution. Should my old friend Wookie happen to have some pest removal problems in the garden... well that's just coincidental."

Hopping Madness

On the morning of a crucial game against league leaders and defending champignons, Ebygumwe'reabagofshite Park FC, rumours of an interesting tactic have been circulating around the league. The inside

After recent 'hacking' accusations we managed to photograph FC Wazzy manager Paul Warren at his Back Garden knowledge is that in a desperate attempt to ascertain the tactics of little man (hood) Mitch, McFletch resorted to sending one of his players round to their training ground with a pogo stick to try and spy on their formations. McFletch was obviously not thinking clearly as he chose to send Ledley King who could only manage two hops on the stick before his persistent knee problem took hold. King now faces a late fitness test for today's match. McFletch was unavailable for comment.

In The Press This Week

FC Wazzy enter the future

With rumours beginning to circulate, FC Wazzy boss Paul 'Wazza' Warren was quick this morning to hold a press conference denying any association with the recent server troubles at league headquarters, "I spent the week leading up to the 2nd leg of our cup tie against DUAO in the shed, working hard with head Groundsman Mo Milorn in preparation for the next season in the top flight! We spent each day surrounded by hoes, and a range of garden tools."

When questioned about his preferred mode of recording and planning his teams fortunes, Warren gave a very clear response, "I am a trained computer expert with all the latest up to date technology at my disposal. In fact, only last week, I managed to connect up my latest computer to the Web Wide World of intermail. And the guy in the shop tells me this machine is so advanced that I can even play games in my spare time. I was so impressed, i bought Ghostbusters and LA Olympics (which came with a FREE joystick)."

Reluctant to share the name of his latest machine, we paid one of our hoes to investigate further. After some stirring undercover work we can reveal the computer that has taken FC Wazzy to 3rd in the league and a place in the final of the cup is..... a Commadore 64.

All change, all change!

The Perry Men's Manager McFletch was delighted with the point that guarentees his team will not finish in the bottom two. The 1-1 draw against E'saregoodE'saregoo dE'sebeenzergoode Park FC surely swings the pendulum in the favour of Red Machine FC who face bottom team Rush Green on the final day of the season. The Perry Men did a lap around the Lane after the game to thank fans for their fantastic support. McFletch paid triubute, 'At home we've been great this season, and with no away wins you can tell our fans really make the difference' The Perry Men now go into the last game of the season hoping to get that elusive away win against magic man Mitch's rising cocks.

Its Now Out Of Our Hands

Egloshayle Parks 1-1 draw at The Perymen yesterday enabled The Red Machine to claim top spot with just one week to go and look favourites to snatch the title away.

"Its now out of our hands and we have to rely on Red Machine bottling it or my old mate Trev doing us a favour at Rush Green, that is of course assuming we beat in-form FC Wazzy. Its in their hands and although its not all over yet, we realise how important yesterdays result was" said Mitchell.

When asked about Egloshayles disallowed goal which would have given Park all 3 points yesterday Mitchell answered "Leagues are not won and lost on referees decisions, it is extremely difficult for them. League titles are won over the season and our away form has let us down, refereeing decisions level themselves out over the season and you have to congratulate Rob Couch for capitalising - we now have to pick ourselves up for the cup final on Sunday.

DUAO have league title within reach

With another comfortable win under their belts DUAO takes a step closer to claiming the league title. DUAO brushed aside Itchy Feeling 2-0 to set up themselves up for the clash of the season against the Mighty Irons this Thursday. Wookie is still sulking over his Cup knock out at the hands of FC Spazzy and again refused to give a press interview.

No mind game only a football game

Trevor Isles, Rush Green Manager, is angry at recent press posting by other manager asking for Rush Green to do them a favour. "We know we haven't had a good season this year, as we were really hoping to push on from last year. Our aim at the start of the season has changed now. We want to win every game we play in. We do it for no other manager. We win for the pride of Rush Green'.

Calm ahead of Relegation "Decider"

Dark Destroyers chief - The Chieftan - has called for "Calm Heads" ahead of their critical "Relegation-Decider" at Westcountry Wanderers this week. On the eve of the biggest game in the clubs history he announced "We will go into this match with the same approach as any other game. Obviously we know we have to win - anything less and we will finish in the bottom two - but that might just suit us. Our team has an incredible spirit when the pressure is on us and who knows what might happen if we can snatch an early goal at the Cove." The chieftan also took time out from his busy preparations to wish fellow manager Hewey best wishes for the remainder of the season - after this weeks game !! and hopes that the best team wins on the day. "At the end of the game, if we are relegated it will be down to our performances over the season as a whole and not just because of one result" he said as he led his out for a final vigorous training session in the "Bora Bora" region of Afghanistan.

'Park' Bring The Cup To Egloshayle

Egloshayle Park FC 2 0 FC Wazzy

Egloshayle Park ensured that some silverware will be coming back to Egloshayle Road when they disposed of FC Wazzy 2-0 to lift the trophy.

Local talent Paul Rowe got Egloshayle off the mark after 20 minutes when his long range effort beat Norton from distance

Although the match was still very much alive a goal right before half-time proved to be conclusive as a cross from Gary Burtenshaw on the right was headed in at the far post from Theo Walcott to make it 2-0.

In a tight second half Wazzy could not penetrate Parks defence and Park managed to see the game out to bring home the cup

One To Watch:

WestcountryWanderers - The Dark Destroyers

Its simple, whoever wins stays in the Premiership next season. Destroyers are slightly more the in-form side but Wanderers are the home side. Wanderers only need a draw to ensure Destroyers plummet down to Division one but who stays and who goes from this fixture is simply too tight to call. At the top a win for Machine will ensure they lift the title, if they lose then Egloshayle MUST beat Wazzy to retain the title.
