The Dark Destroyers and in particular Freddy Kruger self destruct at White Hot Lane

The League Supreme Under Sabotage

It has been a very eventful week for all managers. In particular DUAO manager Wookie

Week 7 proved to be one of the most memorable - Attempted sabotage on the league and the Cup !

The Perrymen 3
The Dark Destroyers 2

The Perrymen produced an amazing fightback at White Hot Lane, coming from 2 down to win 3-2 in the final 20 minutes.

It all started so well for the visitors, who now face a very real struggle for Premiership survival. Sid Vicious shot after 8 minutes to give Adrian Mitchells side a 1-0 lead, a lead they managed to keep until half-time.

Nasty Nick thought he had extended that lead after 58 minutes when he brokeway, only for the referee to dis-allow for an earlier infringement. Dick Dastardly DID extend their lead to 2-0 just 4 minutes later and it looked as though the Destroyers just might be on the way to all 3 points.

But themselves, and in particularly Freddy Kruger (pictured below) pressed the self-destruct button on 66 minutes. Playing with only 3 at the back, Kruger was given his marching orders and left The Destroyers very vulnerable. A weakness which Richard Fletcher and his men full exploited.

Just 2 minutes after the red card Jurgen Klinsmann headed in to make it 2-1 and with only a quarter of an hour remaining Klinsmann added his second. In a devastating 10 minute display man-of-the-match Narciso Campelos long range effort sent the home crowd wild and gave Fletch and The Perrymen all 3 points with a 3-2 home victory and an amazing fight-back.

The Rising Deck 1

Rising Mitchell Rises Home For Rising Deck

More Premiership News Inside . . .

The league champions suffer their second league defeat this season as The Deck and player/manager Ian Mitchell show their magic once more.

The Rising Deck deserved their home win against title challengers Egloshayle as they managed the whole 90 minutes without letting the visitors have a single shot on goal.

Ian Mitchell was the hero as he came off the bench for a first half injury to net just minutes later. A goal which turned out to be the eventual winner. This not only has put The Deck back in with a sniff of championship glory but has also put a serious dent in Egloshayles bid to retain the title. But worse news was to follow after the match for Craig Mitchell - full story inside.

LS Premiership

Westcountry Wanderers 2
Red Machine FC 4

Bolams All Whyte For Machine

Bolam and Whyte leave it late to ensure all 3 points for unstoppable Red Machine despite Wanderers brave effort.

Westcountry Wanderers matched their high-flying visitors in the first half and took an early lead through Maximo Remedio. Red Machine, looking to extend their lead at the top fought back and equalised on the half hour through Reggie Franklin.

JJ Leppe restored the home-sides lead 1 minute into the second half when he headed in but once more Franklin proved to be a thorn in Wanderers side when his long range strike equalised once more the leaders.

With both sides looking for the victory it was the talent and experience of Rob Couchs side that won through. Justin Bolam made it 5 in 7 games with just 4 minutes remaining and Neill Whyte made no mistake when his direct free-kick made it 4-2 with a minute left on the clock. The Red Machine are now 3 points clear at the half-way mark.

Rush Green 1
FC Wazzy 2

Alford Once More Saves Wazzy

FC Wazzy's comeback gives Rush Green a huge mountain to climb if they are going to avoid the drop.

Rush Greens Marshall Bushell gave Trevor Isles something to smile about after only 13 minutes when his direct free-kick gave the home side a 1-0 lead, a lead they took into half-time.

Manager of the week Paul Warrens half time talk must have done the trick as it took man-of-the-match Frederico Abascal just 8 minutes to equalise. Just 6 minutes later and Rush Greens misery was complete. Randy Alford made 4 goals for the season when he shot into the roof of the net to make it 2-1 and increase the pressure on Rush Green.

LS Division 1 reports and reaction

Down Under And Out 2
Down by the Trent 0

Teale Seals It

Down Under And Out were too strong for Down By The Trent in this top-of-the-table Division 1 clash.

Steven Simons opened the scoring for Richard Bartons side after just 26 minutes play. Both sides created chances but Wookies side enjoyed the lions share of the play.

Man-of-the-match Joe Teales 58th minute strike proved to be too much for Phil Jory's side as DUAO remain unbeaten, 4 points clear at the top and next weeks return clash is all the more important for both managers.

I love it when a plan comes together

That was the word from DUAO Manager Wookie (pictured below) as he left the field after giving second place DBTT a few lessons in great game. "It was always going to be a close game and DBTT played a fair game and gave us a good run out, but I knew if we kept possession and turned chances into goals we'd have it. My boys stuck to the plan well. Coming to Wookie Hole is a daunting experience for any club. I expect we'll have a tougher time next week when we visit DBTT for the replay.

"My boys stuck to the plan well" said DUAO manager Richard Barton

Fair Play Wookie

"Hats off, (oh no I'm not wearing one)" to Wookie and DUAO for an accomplished performance in their win against DBTT. This will undoubtedly motivate my lads for the return match, in the mean time its The Perry Men (is that Spurs rubbish? - gosh Forest win 4 on the bounce and its gone to my head!!!)

Lewd Lewes FC 0
Earls Courtinas 2

Earls Courtinas are gradually finding their form and leap-frog into second place thanks to Hardy and Hunter.

Carl Hardy made continued his devastating form for Courtinas when he made it 6 for the season after just 17 minutes for the visitors.

Lucian Cobb then missed a penalty for the visitors but this proved insignificant thanks to Keiron Hunters breakaway goal just 4 minutes from time to lift Courtinas to second place on goal difference.

The Irons 0
Sexual Ealing FC 2

Sexual Ealing dominated proceedings at managerless Irons with two thirds of possession and a host of chances.

Nate Crampseys own goal gave Ealing a 1-0 half-time lead after just 5 minutes play but it wasnt until 10 minutes from time when Dave Grohl capped a fine performance when his shot made it 2-0 to Paul Corrigan's side and are just 2 wins off a promotion place.

Hell Hounds 4
Dynamo Des 0

Hell Hounds made light work of managerless Dynamo Des and will hope this 4-0 victory revitalises their push for promotion.

Jonatan McGibbon scored the opener after just 13 minutes and added himself a second just 5 minutes later.

Matts side had to wait until the 72nd minute before adding a 3rd, Norman Buchanan firing in to make it 3-0. Edgar Meadows completed the rout with 5 minutes play and Matts side are just 3 points off second place.

League Supreme Under Attack

What started out as a simple contract signing session at League Supreme Headquarters has turned into a sabotaged attempt on The League Supreme.

THIS IS A PRESS RELEASE FROM CRAIG MITCHELL WHO DO SO HIMSELF AT THE MOMENT !!!!! (I'll get sponsorship bonus though.....ha...ha...ha)

Shortly after Egloshayles 1-0 defeat against The Rising Deck, Egloshayle manager and League Admin Craig Mitchell took part in what he thought was a simple contract signing to take over struggling Division One sides The Irons and Dynamo Des.

In signing to take over The Irons, Mitchell was tricked into signing a resignation letter from not only League Champions Egloshayle Park but also as League Administrator. The small print in the contract states he has terminated all contracts and has been sacked from his managerial role.

Mitchell, who can not even sign in to the League Supreme to make amends is currently with his Lawyers and FIFA to find out just WHO is behind this 'take-over ' attempt and to try to get him re-instated before the League Supreme falls apart.

DUAO deny whistle blowing on Mitch

Although we are pleased that the League Admin has been removed from power and is being investigated by FIFA, DUAO deny any involvement in the issue. We hope during FIFA's investigation that the shady cup draws will see to the demise of the current Administration. who can't even get a magazine out on time!!

I only hope the investigation goes on long enough to ensure the slippery git can't manage his team for the coming cup draws :-) then justice will be served

HA-HA I'll laugh my bloody socks and shoes off!!

The BOSS Is Back

It has been a 24 hours full of turmoil but Craig Mitchell is back where he belongs, as Egloshayle Park FC Player/manager and as League Administrator. A full story will feature here and in the magazine over the weekend as we receive more news but lawyers and police have been involved and FIFA had a huge part to play in rectifying this horrifying ordeal.

"Craig Mitchell is considered one of the best League administrators we have had, FIFA will conduct a thorough investigation into issues over the last 24 hours and the perpetrators brought to justice. We thank our lucky stars he is back" said ALL of FIFA.

We tried to contact Mr Mitchell but he is said to be relieved to be back, but very shaken. His squad have ALL been hit badly with form at an all time low, some squad members reported to be 'suicidal'. DUAO manager is one of the first to be investigated and reports say he is 'very silly' to say what he has said, particularly as Mr Mitchell has a heavy influence on images and content for the league magazine.

Thank the Heavens Mitch's Return

Joking aside from the earlier press release...I'm just delighted that Mitch has returned. Our mantle, leader and deity has returned to look after his fold. I was about to quit my post in protest. (that should be enough to put the little shit off posting some dodgy photos of me)

Nope ! - Ed

Investigations Continue

Investigations into the attempted sabotage on The League Supreme are ongoing as FIFA and the Metropolitan Police hunt for the perpetrators. Mitchell has spoken for the first time since the ordeal.

"After our disappointing defeat against magicians and illusionists The Rising Deck they kindly hosted the signing of the contracts to take over The Irons and Dynamo Des at The Orpheum. As the contract was put in front of me I felt fingertips on my temple and heard the words 'sleep'. When I came to all hell had broken loose and I had discovered I had lost my team and control over the League" said Mitchell. "I then received a text from Red Machine manager Rob Couch expressing an interest in taking Egloshayle Park, with all of this AND DUAO managers gloating this could be the biggest 'who dunnit' since 'who shot JR !!??' I dont envy the investigating teams" he concluded.

The club were in training today ahead of their cup match against Rush Green. "I have never seen such a depressed sullen squad, this is our most difficult time as a team, it will either make us or break us, it will be interesting how we respond tomorrow" said Mitchell

Mind Games

Rising Deck Manager 'Ian Mitchell', fresh from another sell out performance on his UK tour, gave us his thoughts into 'Eglosgate' as it's becoming known.

"I do think its my team and myself's fault that he is in such a state, but nothing untoward. From the Kick Off on Thursday our well prepared keep ball and intelligent movement left himself and his players running in circles and chasing shadows that much that he looked extremely dizzy at the final whistle" "I think we must be the first team to prevent his side having a single chance on goal, for which we are very proud. My goal that settled it gave us the win but it's our defense and 100% concentration that gave us the win we deserved. I think Craig was Mindfucked for a few days but i'm sure he will be back for revenge in the coming weeks" "I've studied my Crystal Ball to see who the perpetrator of the signing mishap and have found it to be Red Machine manager Robert Couch!"

Little Bo Peep!!

"There seems to be a fooking witchhunt out for me at the moment. First I receive abusive phone calls in the middle of the night from the managers of Westcountry 'forever' Wandering - Paul Hewitt, and Egloshite Park FC - Craig Mitchell. Secondly, I get drawn against DUAO - the only unbeaten side in the two leagues, i know they are a league below, but their record speaks for itself (or their manager certainly makes sure everybody knows about it :-). Thirdly, that so called magician of a manger Iain Mitchell, is blaming me for his brothers greediness of trying to cream all the money from two other clubs....I thought the Government had banned short selling!? Yes I was interested, or should i say Egloshite Park FC's board was interested in bringing me to the club. I think Craig should look closer to home as to why he was ousted from his management position for a short time!!

Maybe it is time for him to get on his bike and move on. That is if he can ride a uni-cycle! Right, I need to get back to Little Bo Peep!!

to the big game. He explained "Don't tell the chairman, but I do some moonlighting at Tulip - its only about 45 hours per week - and I have to be away from home. And, of course, "when you're in love with a beautiful" team it certainly makes things awkward."

DUAO look to favours from dad

DUAO Manager Wookie has resorted to meditation in order to clear his mind for the coming game against second place DBTT. "It's our toughest game of the season to date. DBTT have a good team on paper, but if my boys stick to the plan, I expect to be cracking open the bubbly come Thursday evening. Some of these bigger clubs have the finances to get match reports and the likes. Me? I'm the chosen one, son of god, redeemer and all that crap. Plus I have a few IOU's to pull in with the big man when I need em. So I expect anyone who comes to Wookie Hole to be crapping themselves, no surprise then DBTT Manager Phil Jory won't even make it to see his side get humiliated here.

Big Mouth Contested

Although Mitch Seniors wife (Debbie Magee) would probably win the big mouth title, this would be for nagging and haranguing the poor balding Pauls Daniels lookalike and certainly not for any implied sexual contact. Which we all know the sorry dwarf (in more ways than one - as we've heard from reliable sources) hasn't seen any action for many years or is likely too again!

DUAO Manager does a "Mitch"

DUAO Manager Wookie (pictured below) has been shouting up his chances for the coming game with the following report:

"We don't drink Carlsberg so there's no probably when I say we are the best team in the league. Did I ever say before that we are top of the league? Well just in case... WE ARE TOP!! We've got a 7 goal difference advantage against second place and after our back to back with DBTT we should have a 6 point lead over 2nd place. It will be sit back and relax time for us in 2 games time" manager Wookie sporting his new facial hair Not since Mitch Juniors infamous "we are the best" speech and his resulting drubbing by the Red Machine have we heard such egotism. Will history repeat itself? Will Wookie get stuffed down his own hole?

DUAO call for CUP audit

DUAO Manager wookie has called on the League Admin to demonstrate the independant verification of the cup round draws. This is after big mouth wookie was drawn in the first round against the mighty Red Machine.

"this draw stinks of a fix...just because I'm still unbeaten, the league admin decide to punish me by fixing my 1st round draw against the biggest club in the premiership. It's bang out of order league admin, who also happen to manage 2nd place team Egloshale Park, should be made an example of and docked points from their league team!!

DUAO call for CUP audit

"The Cup draw was independently verified by my Mother and seconded by my Dad so up yours" said a League representative.

He went on to contiue "I would like to remind Wookie of a comment in a recent press release by himself and I quote . . .

"Oi! numb nuts! When's the cup starting I want to kick seven bells out of the premier league monkey teams?"

What goes around comes around, lets see how big your NZ Bolloc*s are now big boy!" the spokesman concluded.

Pre Match Views

The Rising Deck Player/ Manager/ Elephantitis Penis 'Ian Mitchell' has confirmed another Orpheum Sell-Out for tomorrows visit of Eglosfrail Park (or League Admin as its better known)

"It's going to be an entertaining afternoon in the family atmosphere of our Marvelous Stadium and come 3pm (4pm C.E.T !) our loyal fans will have been treated to an exciting minute of football and all things going well we will have a point or three to show for our efforts"

"We respect our visitors and will treat their attacking options with extreme caution but we always have a trick up our sleeves and who knows on the day what the outcome will be" NOW COME ON SPONSORS, THAT'S THREE PRESS RELEASES IN 10 MINS, COUGH UP !

Cometh The Hour, Cometh The Men

Egloshayle Park player-manager Craig Mitchell was upbeat prior to todays game at title-rivals Rising Prick but also issued a word of warning to his squad.

"Todays a toughie, they were up there last season but havent had the best of starts but, because of that, and because he's a ct, they will be looking to put one over on us. Today we have no excuses, we are back to full-strength and it is imperative we get a result. Its time for us all to stand up and be counted, there are no hiding places today. Its by no means a title decider, but we mustnt let The Bread Machine run away with it. We would 'loaf' it if Wanderers beat them. No bun intended" said Mitchell.

Wookie downbeat about Cup tie

We caught up with DUAO Manager Wookie in a sombre mood about his chances of an upset against the Mighty Reds this Sunday. "To be honest I would have loved an easier draw...I mean ffs I couldn't have got a more difficult one - away to top of the premier league. I'm still awaiting independent verification from the league admin on the draw, I've heard nothing from Mitch's mum or dad to date, but then that goes to show what a fix this fixture is. The clubs in dire straits financially but the boys are in good spirits, I just hope I can keep paying their wages. I would have revelled in the chance to wipe a smile off the Ever -so-Gay Park boys, but there recent back to back defeats does help raises my spirits :-)

I've just got to ride out the storm of the cup match try and get through unscathed, no injuries or cards and then take out my anger on DBTT next week!

Chieftan "Tight-Lipped" over Kaka Rumour

Mystery surrounds the walls of the Theatre of Doom today amid rumours of a recent meeting between the Chieftan and agents acting on behalf of Brazilian wonder-kid Kaka. No-one at the club was available for comment today although a spokesperson from the Italian Giants Milan denied that any approach or offer has been made. The source said "It is untrue that Kaka (a Destroyers supporter since childhood nightmares) turned down Man City in the hope of a move to the LS Premiership and has no intention of leaving the club."

If true it could prove to be a major coup for the Premiership strugglers. Last seasons fallen giants find themselves firmly entrenched in the relegation zone after losing five of their opening seven league games and their only hope of glory this season now rests in the Cups (they face Rising Deck in a tough 1st Round encounter with the first leg at home this weekend). Meanwhile the supporters continue to speculate as they mingle and mooch around the ground. One supporter (with half a head and two mouths) said "We do need to strengthen the team and start getting some points on the board." The other mouth said "Yes and with a player like Kaka to complement the silky-skilled Vinnie Jones in midfield - what a partnership!!"

Brazilian at The Doom ???

With regards to Chieftan and the rumours of a star Brazilian signing i think his team have been playing Kaka all season !

Bring on the cup!

The Dark Destroyers came to the Lane full of aggressive intent that backfired seeing a 2-0 lead disappear as the Perry Men pulled off a remarkable come back to destroy the destroyers 3 -2. McFletch refused to gloat knowing that they travel to the Circus of Doom for the return match this week, 'For now we're just concentrating on the home cup tie against DBTT, we've tried to ignore the turmoil in the league, the back biting, the accusations to concentrate on the task at hand.' The Perry Men can expct a tough round as DBTT showed last season they can certainly raise their game for the cups.

The League Supreme Cup 1st Leg

Sexual Ealing FC	0 - 1	Hell Hounds
The Perry Men	1 - 0	Down by the Trent
Dark Destroyers	1 - 2	The Rising Deck

Rush Green	0 - 2	Egloshayle Park FC
Red Machine FC	2 - 2	Down Under & Out
W-Wanderers	7 - 0	Dynamo Des

The first leg of the League Supreme Cup took place on the 25th January and the match of the round didnt fail to disappoint. Both division leaders met at The Red Cauldron and it would be DUAO manager Wookie who will be happy with the draw and 2 away goals, but desperately disappointed not to win it with Red Machine equalising 2 minutes into injury time. Elsewhere a 63rd minute long range effort from Jonaton McGibbon was enough to give Hell Hounds a 1-0 advantage over Sexual Ealing. Only time will tell if Brian Martins 15th minute penalty for The Perrymen will be enough to carry the Premiership side through against cup holders Down By the Trent.

An 87th minute header from Kenton Knepper gave The Rising Deck a 2-1 advantage away at Dark Destroyers with KaKa making an impressive debut for the home side. A 3rd minute penalty from Howard McGrath was enough to give Lewd Lewes a slim advantage over Division 1 high-flyers Earls Courtinas.

Two goals in the last 8 minutes from top scorer Randy Alford gave FC Wazzy a 4-1 advantage over the Irons and goals from Theo Walcott and Alan Shearer was enough to give Egloshayle a 2-0 advantage over Rush Green with Sammy Abell receiving his marching orders for the luckless home side. A hat-trick from James Hitman Heywood contributed to WestCountry Wanderers smashing 7 past Dynamo Des with no reply and could quite frankly field a 5-aside in the 2nd leg and ensure progress in the competition.

Reds Lucky to Scrape Draw

As DUAO left the Reds ground last night, Rob Couch was left to wonder what had hit his side. A simple home CUP tie against a lower division side turned out to be a nightmare. DUAO came here looking for the win and very nearly got it. A goal by the reds in the 92 minute, saved their blushes leaving the scoreline 2-2 and both clubs set for an interesting second leg.
