Irish Raiders win the Premiership

Wazzy keep promotion hopes alive

And finally, who's bitch is this?

Week 13 and Raiders are crowned Premiership chams, Rising Deck and Perry Men are down, but just who will grab promotion?

CHAMPIONS!

Alan Garrihy and his men celebrate Premiership Supremacy

The fairytale is complete

Despite a 2-0 defeat in the penultimate week, Alan Garrihy completed the Irish Raiders fairytale as his side lifted the league title. Meanwhile its goodbye to two of the LS premiersip founders, The Rising Deck and The Perry Men are relagated and its between Essex Wanderers, Westcountry Wanderers and FC Wazzy for promotion !

The Dark Destroyers who ensured their status in top flight football.

Dick Dastardly ensured an upset was on the cards when Sid Viciouss cross was headed in after 27 minutes. As news filtered through to the away fans that Eglosahyle Park FC were losing at halftime Raiders were a little more at ease but could take nothing for granted as results could have changed in the blink of an eye.

Despite edging the play possession-wise it was the home side who created the better chances and were good value for their hard earned upset when Dastardly grabbed his and Destroyers second from a 72nd minute penalty.

Both sides were euphoric come the final whistle as Destroyers avoided the drop and Raiders were crowned champions and the party could proceed.

In complete contrast to the Theatre of Doom, White Hot Lane was a sombre place for both sides as the 2-0 victory of Destroyers not only ensured the visitors would not win the league but it also ensured it was relegation for the Perry Men who have not experienced life outside the top flight.

In an even match it was The Perry Men who finally made the break through when Jeff Mayalls corner found Anton Hincu unmarked to make it 1-0 just 2 minute from half-time.

The Perry Men started the second half as they ended the first, with a goal. This time the same two combined but it was Hincu who crossed for Mayall to give the bottom side a 2-0 lead. Park looked out of sorts for such an important game and could not break down The Perry Men defence and it took a 92nd minute penalty from Paul Rowe to restore a little pride but it was too little too late for both sides.

A combination of The Dark Destroyers 2-1 victory and this 2-0 defeat at DUAO confirmed Rising Deck to be the second casualty of relegation from top-flight football. In surely the shock of the season the previously much feared previous champions look a shadow of their former selves and completed a nightmare season.

In an even first half the Deck created many chances but could find the back of the net. They were made to pay after 27 minutes when Niall Willoughby crossed for Payton Whiteside to give the home side a 1-0 lead.

The second half was a much more closer affair and despite Decks limited efforts they could not make the all important breakthrough. Late on Ben Windsor created an opening for Naldo Aragonés to complete the 2-0 victory for DUAO in the 92nd minute and complete the miserable season, and subsequent relegation for the Deck.

Red Machine, the reigning champions, ended an astonishing seven match sequence without a win by disposing of Temple Town 3-1.

The home side started strongly and a Timothy Pilling corner found Stanley Mathews to head home a 21st minute opener. Town had the majority of possession in the first half but it was the visitors who created the more chances and we rewarded when Geoffrey Finch set up Acacio Coutinho to strike a long range equaliser after 37 minutes.

The second half continued in the same vein with Town unable to turn possession into chances and were punished after 58 minutes. Horace Logans corner found Inacio Sanches at the near post to give the visitors a 2-1 lead. Any hope of an equaliser for Town finally vanished in the final minute when a 90th minute penalty allowed Geoffrey Finch to make it 3-1 to Machine.

It was all action at The Back Garden and the 7 goal thriller in favour of FC Wazzy gave the home side a glimmer of hope for promotion next week against the Division One leaders.

FC Wazzy started well when Filimon Timisescu headed in a Petrut Florea corner after 22 minutes. Jamie Hardings got a straight red for the home side after 31 minutes which started a nightmare turn around 5 minutes for Wazzy. A minute later The leaders were level when Alfie Horridge made it 1-1 and just five minutes later Matthieu Daval crossed for Morris Swan to head home to bring Essex in 2-1 up at the break.

The odds were heavily against 10 men Wazzy in the second half but they managed to bring things level after 62 minutes when Bonaventure Libiih slotted home in the penalty area. Just five minutes later and Paul Warrens side amazingly took the lead when Theobald Malcolm broke away to make it 3-2.

Just two minute from time Wazzy made sure of the points and a final day nail biter when Florea made it 4-2. It wasn't, however, the end of the scoring. Otis Hoyte reduced the deficit to 4-3 in the 90th minute but it wasn't enough and Wazzy now need a victory on the final day to give them any hope of a return to top flight football.

Wanderers 'Hedge' Closer To The Premiership

Westcountry Wanderers made sure they were on course for a return to the Premiership with a hard fought but eventual comfortable victory at Portman Fortress after coming from behind.

Martin Reusers 15th minute cross was headed in by Abbe Roth to give the home side an early 1-0 lead. The lead lasted 11 minutes when Cliff Hedgers long range effort found the back of the net to make it 1-1. The visitors dominated possession but the score stayed 1-1 until the break.

Thirteen minutes into the second half it was Hedger again for Wanderers this time being set-up by Gaspar Aguado to make it 2-1 to the promotion hopefuls. It took another six minutes for Hedger to claim his hat-trick. Edwin Carden put him through for his and Westcountry's 3rd. Darius Addison completed the 4-1 victory two minutes into injury time and ensured Hewys side only need to draw their final game for a return to the premiership.

With Sexual Ealing away at Westcountry Wanderers on the final day this 2-0 victory from Wellington gives them a chance of finishing 3rd from bottom, a position they were on the opening day having spent the season at the foot of the league.

In an even first half it was the visitors who opened the scoring when Nathan Doherty created a long range opportunity for Phillip Plummer to open the scoring after 38 minutes. Just 5 minutes into the second half and Wellington made it 2-0. Linford Harwoods corner found Doherty at the far post to head in Wellingtons second and ensure the match ended 2-0 to the visitors.

Raiders Receive Numerous Plaudits

Congratulations

May i be the first to congratulate Irish Raiders on clinching the League Supreme Championship today.

Well done, an incredible season !
MM

I risked a couple of youngsters for the change report. No dis-respect to Perryman but I thought it would be safer to do that against them, than against the Tangerine Twats on final day. Finishing runners-up is nothing to be sniffed at, but in relation to our very high standards it is a disappointment. We will be back next season.

Now we are assured of runners-up the final match against TT's is meaningless . . . yeah right NG!

Comiserations to Fletch and MMitch, you will both be sorely missed but hope you return soon. Meanwhile it is still all to play for in Division One!

Emerald Isle

Well done, easy for you. Don't know how you do it, I struggle to set the team up on a weekly basis, let alone win games.

Many thanks for the praise of Egg Shell Shite, praised DUAO and left out the mighty TT, wouldn't expect anything else from the Ginger whinger!
Get a job proper Ginger!
Well done again Irish raiders!

Title Winners Give Praise

May I take this opportunity to thank all managers who have congratulated me on winning this prestigious league. From the first day in beating current champions Red Machine we sent out a message that we meant business but this is beyond our wildest expectations to have won the league on our first attempt.

Temple Town and ourselves have shown this season that nothing separates the two divisions and congrats to them on a fine season too. Also i must congratulate Dark Destroyers who cemented their place in the top division by beating us 2-0 and unfortunately for us was a bit of an anticlimax to winning the league.

Well done to the ever present Egloshayle Park who pushed us all the way but in my opinion took a chance with some young players yesterday probably to gain experience for next year but in the end it turned out to be a costly decision.

The party has well and truly started and I will be out with Matt Rose and Craig to celebrate in style in London tonight before my full time move back to Ireland. How could I turn down the lucrative offer that the Raiders offered me to move back to the Emerald Isle to be closer to the team.

Next season will be my hardest to date with a reputation to keep but also everybody is going to want to beat the champions. We will be ready and waiting and are looking forward to a friendly before the new season kicks off with the Cup winners in our own version of the Charity Shield if they are willing to take part.

Good luck to all in the change report. In the end "Our day did come".

"Congrats" to "Worthy Champions"

Dark Destroyers Chief "Chieftan" was the latest to offer his congrats to Irish Raiders on winning the league in their debut season in the top-flight. "We take great pride in our victory over them to help seal our survival but all credit must go to Irish Raiders for a superb first-season and a well-deserved success" he said after his team survived the drop with just one game to spare.

We are sorry to see our old adversaries Rising Deck and Perry Men go down but we wish them both good luck for a speedy return as they will be sorely missed next season.

Congrats Irish Raiders

May I also congratulate Raiders not only in winning the title, but for the last TWO seasons in climbing both tiers in the league and doing so without upsetting anyone. It proves gentlemen CAN win the league. Although winning the league with a 2-0 defeat is not the conventional way, Alan should take praise that the league is never won on the final, deciding match, it is an accumulation of many previously hard-earned victories (note consistency NG's (Northern Gobshites)).

On a personal note he was dead right,

Final Game - Revenge For Wazzy?

Well, yet again for the second season running, the Blues face Wazzy in the final game. The Blues only have 4th position to play for but after scathing comments last season after a defensive formation was played to ensure the Blues league position and thwarted FC, what will TB play this time? His old mate Hewitt needs the Blues to do him a favour to ensure his promotion to the Premiership but after the demolition last time out by Westcountry is a favour to be expected? It seems TB will be playing his own game this week. 'Yes, we hold one of the keys to the promotion chase but we'll be playing for ourselves, no one else. We are more than fucked off after last weeks defeat which simply looked engineered by the xpert gods to make it all go down to the last game of the season again. We were in fine form after three wins and at home, the lads have been in extra training and their arses are sore after the bollocking they were given.

Fair play to Wazzy, playing with 10 men from 31 minutes and holding nerve to fire in a last minute penalty against the league leaders and likley champions Essex. Xpert gods at work again me thinks. With money building in the bank, next season will see the arrival of at least one quality player to continue the building.

Jitters

Well after an incredible start to the season where we were top of the league after two games, DBTT now find themselves one game away from finishing LAST again! And judging by the Forest performanes lately there's plenty of jitters prevelant on Trentside currently.

Down but Proud and ERECT !

Rising Deck Player/ Manager/refuser to buy VIP favours to win games and act as if it was skilful team selection and tactics that wins rather than Xpert 11 creators rewarding them for putting yet more money into their greedy fucking coffers 'Ian (head held proudly and oh so rightly fucking so !) Mitchell' gave yet another frighteningly honest interview FREE OF CHARGE today to the Xpert (should be fucking 'ex Spurt' as in old stinking of fucking rancid brie cock muck) 11 today.

BEAT THAT FOR AN OPENING SENTENCE !**

The unrepentant king of the press (where VIP can't compete) just visible under the huge pile of supportive letters from other honest noble people such as Nelson Mandela, Jose Mourinho and The Krankies and after digging through those letters the Legend of the Sleight Of Gland emerged from behind his Guinness World Record sized Massive Cock ! to generously say

"Yeah we've been (shoved out coz we haven't sold out) relegated from the Premier league for the first time in our proud history but so what. It's going to be a new Chapter for the club but we will try and do the impossible and get back in the Premiership as Phil Collins would put it AGAINST ALL ODDS at the first attempt. We will be making two or three major changes in our squad but rest assured if 'Courvoisier' want me to stay at the helm of this ship then i'll proudly berth my conjurers at any port requested (using my weighty prick as an anchor) and stride proudly with my fellow magicians to entertain the flocks that will no doubt flood to see us in action as well as the local ladies in need of twat widening. We are still 3rd in the all time standings and STILL HOLD THE RECORD POINTS TOTAL WHEN WINNING THE PREMIER LEAGUE !!!! although this was done naively and embarrassingly with VIP (nuff said really !!!)

I'm meeting with our Sponsors/Owners Courvoisier female head (giving) honcho 'Anita Lonkok Ramdupme' after Thursday's game where she (will firstly beg me for a glimpse, or slight brush against, my rampant staff and i don't mean my irate receptionist who deals with weeping housewives ringing up with aching tuppences due to having to have Butternut Squash removed from their nether regions after getting carried away with glancing at a photo of my bulging bulbous bellend tucked into my ankle sock).....after the begging she may offer me a new contract...who knows ???"

After this kind interview 'Magic' produced from his pocket, not a Golden Thread from his Gladiator Gland, but this weeks Quintessential Quiz !!!

Q.) How low can you possibly get ?
It's either
a) As Low as Jimmy Krankie's Twat Lips (any of you thinking it was a bloke and have smacked off watching him perform with his/her husband SHAME ON YOU !!)
or
b) A VIP buyer who would be able to wear a TOP HAT and still walk comfortably under a snake.

The first correct winner pulled out from underneath my foreskin will recieve a beverage of their choice upon my very soon 1st of 2 visits to THE BIG SMOKE. As Road Runner often said 'That's All Folks go and pour yourself a large Courvoisier !' - MM

With nothing left to play for in the Premiership there is still a little competition for 3rd place with Temple Town, DUAO and Red Machine all capable of claiming it and all are away from home. Park and Raiders have the only 100% records at home so Down Under and Out will be looking for a draw or better for a top 3 place. With most sides plugging the gaps with youngsters in time for the change report the record books could go out the window in this potential set of unpredictable final day results.

LS Prediction: Too unpredictable to predict.

Following the outburst from last season they meet again on final day. FC Wazzy HAVE to win away at a recently revitalised Super Blues side AND hope Westcountry Wanderers lose at home to Sexual Ealing. If Wanderers draw then Wazzy will need a BIG win at Super Blues to reduce the goal difference deficit. If Essex Wanderers lose then there is a slim hope Wazzy could even finish top, but they would have to knock 6 or more past Super Blues. Confused? Yip, me too.

LS Prediction: Home advantage for Westcountry and Essex see them get promotion. Its too late once more for Wazzy.
