Goal - Machine Windsor Is Back

Hat-trick hero Windsor celebrates the first of three for DUAO

An own-goal ensures Westcountry make it three out of three and the only side still to have a perfect start and Ben Windsor scores the League Supremes first hat-trick of season six.

It took Down Under And Out goal machine Ben Windsor just three matches to find the devastating form that will spell bad news for the rest of the premiership defences as a devastating 5-minute second half hat-trick comfortably disposed of pointless Temple Town.

Manager of the week Wookie will be happy with his sides solid performance. The visitors enjoyed the lions share of the first half possession but in a match battled out in midfield neither of these Northern Clubs could muster a chance on goal.

It took DUAO eight minutes of the second half to break the deadlock. A free-kick on the edge of the area was converted by Ben Windsor, leaving Wood in the Town goal rooted. Just three minutes later Windsor had doubled his teams lead. An Andy Blackmoor corner fell to Windsor who made it 2-0. Windsor completed his hat-trick just two minutes later, completing an awesome five minute spell. Joaquin Rubiales created space for the deadly marksman to make it 3-0 and silence a dumbstruck Birchfield crowd. Little was seen, or surprisingly heard, from Temple Town bigmouth Hargreaves before, or after the game.

Who's the Daddy?

DUAO bounced back from their sordid daylight robbery last week to stamp out a 3-0 win in an honest northern game of football. Neighbouring Simpleton Town were just no match for the mighty DUAO whose goal scoring legend, Ben Windsor, was on fire to smash all 3 past a stunned second string keeper. A delighted Wookie claimed his manager of the round award and was on hand for the following comments.

"It was another solid performance from the lads and this time Xpert 11 decided not to rob us of our deserved 3 points. Ben Windsor didn't have his best game, but he was in the right place at the right time and bagged his first hat trick of the season.

We're building a solid team and for the first time in 3 seasons I really think we can match Ever so Gay Park shoulder to shoulder in their own backyard. I can picture Craig now, somewhere on the streets of London, wrapped up in his disintegrating cardboard box, begging for handouts and forced to sell his arse to raise funds for a hot shower. He'll be trawling over the DUAO team stats this week and crapping himself at the thought of playing us next week. Bring it on!"

Diddy Edges Park Past Machine

 Egloshayle Park FC	1

Possession: 50 - 50 (43-57)

Chances: 2 - 2 (1-1)

There was nothing to choose between the League Supremes most successful rivals except one solitary peace of magic from Parks dead-ball specialist Diddy Hamilton.

Park just edged the possession in the first half at Red Cauldron but chances were few and far between with both sides only catching a glimpse of goal once each. That was enough for Park and in particularly Diddy

Hamilton whose direct free-kick flew past A Conde and give Egloshayle a 1-0 fifteenth minute lead.

The second half was even tighter with both sides only managing one more chance on goal with both sides finishing with possession split 50-50. The all important statistic remained. It ended 1-0 to Egloshayle with Diddy taking his seasons tally to three, one behind Windsor.

Diddy Does It Again

Park pulled off a surprise 1-0 away win at title-rivals Red Machine yesterday in a game that saw Diddy Hamilton grab the all important goal from a trademark set-piece.

"I'd like to pay tribute to Diddy, the team and rival Manager Couch in what was an extremely tight match. Both sides cancelled each other out and whilst it was not the entertaining spectacle the fans deserved this was a vital 3 points" said Park boss Mitchell.

"Despite our rivalry I have the utmost respect for Couchy and Red Machine and I will be totally honest and say I would have been happy with a draw. We were without our king-pin in defence and the win-bonus curfew enforced on me has made it difficult to inspire the players . . . or so I thought. To go to the Red Cauldron and get a result against their team (with a win bonus offered) has filled me with confidence going into season six, although it is still early days".

When asked about Wookies comments Mitchell replied "DUAO are another great side and will be up there challenging for silverware come the end of the season. They had a good result yesterday but it was only against pointless Temple Town, whatever the result, it will be a different proposition from what they have faced so far" said a cagey Mitchell.

Did-he, Did-he.....

...."Yes he did!" commented a bemused Rob Couch, after last weeks home loss to rival Egloshayle Park FC. "What an important player Diddy Hamilton is for the Park, I am not for one moment suggesting they are a one man team!?"

"I take my hat off to Craig and his team for pulling off a shock result. For a neutral, it was a very dull game, and it seems that I got my tactics wrong by adopting a conservative style of play to the game."

"It is still very early in the season, but this week will be massive for the club. With an away fixture against current champions, Irish Raiders on Thursday. Then we welcome current table toppers Westcountry Wanderers on Sunday for the first leg of the cup."

Premiership Round-Up

Heartbreak For Helmsley

Essex Wanderers	0
Westcountry Wanderers	1

Possession: 55 - 45 (51-49)

Chances: 3 - 4 (1-1)

Home - Man Of The Match - Away

Alfie Horridge Gaspar Aguado

After beating top Premiership opposition Irish Raiders and Red Machine one could be forgiven for assuming Westcountry would ease past their Division One promotion buddies Essex Wanderers comfortably. They did win, and extended their impressive 100% start to life in the Premiership (the only club in the league to do so) but it took an injury time own-goal from Patrick Helmsley to gift Hewy the points.

Maybe the previous seasons knowledge of their opposition gave Essex a slight advantage because they gave their high-flying visitors their toughest game yet in season six. Essex just edged possession on both halves and limited the league leaders to one effort on goal in the first half. This continued in the second half with Westcountry created the better chances but failing to make the breakthrough. It took an unfortunate own-goal to decide this tight match, Helmsley heading into his own net on 91 minutes past Spijkers to maintain Westcountries perfect start.

It was Raiders' ability to open up a previously mean and undefeated defence that proved to be the champions saviour as they ran away 2-0 winners against an unbeaten Destroyers side.

In an even first half it was the Raiders who managed to create the better chances but failed to find the back of the net at the Temple Of Doom.

The second half was only five minutes old when Gary Fortune put Seymour Conden through to make it 1-0 to the champions. Ten minutes later and it was all over. This time Conden turned provider when his cross on the hour was headed in at the far post by Wesley Sellers to give the Raiders a 2-0 win and all three points against Destroyers. Something that the previous two teams have failed to achieve.

Own-Goal Misery For Under Fire Super Blues

Midfield Maestro Terrence Crooks disposes Super Blues Lester Tabbart

Blues. Lester Tabbart was in the wrong place at the wrong time for Blues as it was off his attempted block that the ball deflected past the helpless Constantiniu to gift Wazzy all three points to lift Wazzy to second and spark Portman Road concerns.

Game Of Two Halves

Boring first half with no shots or attacks to speak of. much better second half. 3 goals and a range of yellow cards. Result: we won and move up to 2nd in the table.

Resignation Talk

TB has today resigned from two other teams as Manager and is looking at the next couple of weeks before deciding his future at the helm of Super Blues. Despite a stupid own goal against Wazzy, the team showed signs of improvement, despite the new keeper who will be left on the bench in the next game.

FC Wazzy piled the pressure on Super Blues boss Darren Rice this week as a 2-1 home victory sparked concerns of the Tractor Boy boss and triggered resignation talks. Either way, Super Blues third successive defeat of the season introduced talks involving a massive overhaul at the club. Whether this panic talk is premature or not remains to be seen.

In a tight first half there was little to choose between the sides at opposite ends of the table. This was highlighted with the match tied at 0-0 at half-time. Wazzy managed to find a break-through on the hour when Petrut Floreas corner fell to Ethan Page to give the home side a 1-0 lead. Super Blues were back on level terms within the minute. An Arnold Muhren, a target for several Premier League clubs, corner was flicked in at the near post by Abbe Roth to make it 1-1. Leaders Hounds Held By Perry Men

 Hell Hounds	1
 The Perry Men	1

Possession: 51 - 49 (40-60)

Chances: 2 - 5 (1-0)

Home - Man Of The Match - Away
Patrick Koob Edmund Strachan

The Hell Hounds perfect start came to an end at The Den in week three thanks to a deserved 1-1 draw at the hands of The Perry Men.

The visitors held a good account of themselves at the Division One leaders and are still unbeaten. Although having the greater possession it was the home side who made the breakthrough. Norman Buchanans corner eventually fell to Edgar Meadows who made no mistake in slotting past N Kaberg to send Matt Roses side in 1-0 up at the break.

Just six minutes into the second half and The Perry Men were back on level terms. Edmund Strachan created an opening for Rio Daltrey to fire home. Although the home side got back into the game more in the second half it was the visitors who created the better chances but neither side could snatch the winner.

Trent Come From Behind For First Win

 Mangatainoka FC	1

Possession: 51 - 49 (53-47)

Chances: 3 - 3 (1-2)

Home - Man Of The Match - Away
Mikey Grainger Dave Grohl

Down By The Trent managed their first win of season six against Mangatainoka FC but had to come from behind to do it, albeit from the penalty spot, just three minutes from time.

Mangatainoka started brightly and were ahead as early as the 6th minute when Jarred Ackroyd crossed for Marcos Canas to head home. Trent replied quickly as Evaristo Corte-Real (who?) created space for Osvaldo Simoes to fire home a speculative long range effort past Raposo just three minutes later.

In an even match neither side could muster a foothold in the game and it took an 87th minute decision by referee Ann Onym to gift

Trent the chance for their first win. Ronnie Bergman fired home from the spot to give Jorys men a 2-1 win.

Success at last

DBTT's early season promise was finally rewarded with a win against Mangksdfhgsergbfnvmoiiloosaiifiioi (no offence intended but short of time and want the econ!). Manager Jory was chuffed commenting “The difference between victory and defeat seems very marginal these days, adding league one looks to be very tight - yes MM even for my marshmallow although I consider it more of a batter dib-dab”

Deck Loses Perfect Start At Wellington

 Wellington Wanderers	2
 The Rising Deck	1

Possession: 45 - 55 (47-53)

Chances: 3 - 6 (2-4)

Home - Man Of The Match - Away
Doug Barrowcliff Robert Houdin

The form books took a re-write following this result at Wellington Street Stadium where the visitors The Rising Deck, having played twice and won twice visited a Wellington Wanderers side without a win, but the home side managed to snatch a 2-1 win.

The higher-flying visitors not only edged the possession in both halves but also created the better chances but it was the home side who were the first to show. Antonio Turchetti crossed for Nathan Doherty to flick home a near post header to give EggMofo a 1-0 lead after seven minutes play. The lead lasted twenty minutes when Robert Houdin put David Devant through to slot calmly past Barrowcliff in Wellingtons goal. Wellington had the final word of the half, and in hindsight the match, when a handball in the Deck penalty area by Jillette gave Wellington a 37 minute penalty. Antonio Turchetti converted the penalty to give Wanderers a 2-1 lead, all three points and a first win for EggMofo.

Finally some Grit

The Wanderers finally showed some grit after going 2-1 up they managed to hold out against a dominant Rising Deck to put 3 points on the board. After such a poor start to last season and this season threatening to go a similar way, a win was imperative for Eggmofo. After the game he praised his players determination to hang in there against the better team.

Signs Of A Worried Manager

On the eve of one of the most fiercely fought matches in the LS Supreme calendar. Red Machine FC manager

Couchy, was extremely surprised to receive text messages from his rival manager, Craig Mitch, asking him "what formation, team and tactics" he would be using in tomorrows game.

"I obviously told Mitchell where to go (but not North though!) and have sex in his travels!" commented Couchy.

"I know tomorrows game, will, as always be a closely fought battle. The previous results in this fixture proves this. Each manager claiming five wins, and three draws".

"In my opening two games, I have adopted a more attacking style of play. But tomorrow the team will be playing rather more conservative, against a team that boasts a number of highly talented attacking players. I just hope Mitchell will share a vintage bottle of JD with me after the match."

Mind Games? He's No Mourinho . . .

"In my opening two games, I have adopted a more attacking style of play. But tomorrow the team will be playing rather more conservative, against a team that boasts a number of highly talented attacking players."

"If Couchie thinks Im gonna fall for that, hes more stupid than I thought . . . Or is it a double bluff? Or is HE thinking that, therefore its a treble bluff, but does he want me to think that its a treble bluff, therefore its a double-bluffer-double-back-big-flip" said Mitchell.

"Either way, its an early in the season meaningless match and I will definitely be fielding eleven players, all aiming to kick the ball" mused Mitchell.

Bluff ?, double bluff ? TOTAL GUFF !!!!

Bluff, double bluff, treble bluff, google bluff, boogle bluff, boogle bluff + 1, billy goats bluff. Enuff !!!!

What's totally guff is that both managers are claiming 3 draws!!! Duuuuhhhh. Of course both are. It would be totally mind numbenly Northern for 1 to claim 3 draws and the other to claim less/more than the other when talking about (pin) head to head encounters. Why not just kissy ass up and wank each other off before kick off ? Perhaps that's what JD stands for, Jerkoff Dew ! Get on with it you fucks and quit the bluff bluff bluff. Fallen Saint Niklaus

The Perry Men PR machine went into full throttle as young keeper Niklaus Alberg was sensationally suspended for 5 games following a failed drug test. The official statement on the clubs web-site declared that during the long dark days since The Perry Men's relegation, Mr. Alberg has found it hard to adjust to missing the highs of the premiership. Manager McFletch declared, 'We are going to back our young keeper, everyone deserves a second chance and he's got off fairly lightly this time. We'll be looking to reinstate Erik the Viking for the next game against the Super Poos and if we can we will be looking to bring in some cover in the event of an injury.'

A quickie from McThickDickie

Rising Deck Player/Manager/ Front Buttock hurter Ian ‘Magic’ Mitchell gave a very quick 50,000 econ worth of press release this evening.

“Firstly Congratulations to EggNog on his win against us on Thursday .They did well and my only complaint is the fact that the fussy gay ref booked 5 of our players.

He’s obviously a cunt and will have to live with it. If i ever the ref out with his missus i’m going to finger her with freddy’s glove, one blade up the front one up the wrongun and one scraping her devil’s doorbell !

McFletch put another one over on me in a friendly on Sunday which i hope will be a swift reminder to our players to pull their fingers out ahead of this weeks visit of Matt and his Hell Hounds. I know the strength in his side is immense and this could well be their year to get into the Premiership so we will have to play well to fuck up their chances.

The cup draw has thrown up Magnatoky and on our current form i know this is anyones tie !

Anyway that’s all for now folks, like a Northerner’s cock it’s short. I wish you all sore phallus’s !

Mangatainoka FC manager Aotearoa today finally had the time for the visiting press after sending them away on previous visits. Well first up was the reaction to the away loss to DBTT. It was another frustrating game, by going down by 2-1. I just can’t seem to pick up any points on the road, but we aren’t getting a hiding either. So we know we are close, but still a lot of work to do.

We were really pleased with today’s cup draw. I don’t expect to go through to the next round, but the fingers will be crossed. It will be an interesting battle after only going down 1-0 away to the Rising Dick Deck already this season. I'm going to rest some of my stars for the weeks away league game at the Back Garden. I know I'm going to lose the game anyway so I may as well save them for the cup.

Well now after the recent media interest around Muhren, I would also like to throw an offer out there. He's a good player & will fit well into my squad. I think Park's paltry offer of 2m is a joke & DUAO's offer of a young midfielder was better. But as I actually want this buoy I will actually offer something that is reasonable. I sat down with the chairman & discussed the player & he has given me a budget of 3m econ to try to lure him away from the premier league clubs.

Arnie bid

We at the Rising Deck bid 3.5m for Mr.Muhren. Ok so he's got a big nose, i've got a big cock so we'll just have to live with our deformaties !

Muhren & Yorke

TB has made a further statement regarding the recent transfer talk centering around Muhren. Deck have put in a very interesting offer and look like the front runner. However, the key factor is whether forward Yorke will be sold tomorrow. More than one offer has been received for the forward one of which looks like seeing Thom on his way. 'Its very likley one of the lads will go tomorrow, Deck have put in a good offer for Arnold and two offers have come in for Thom, one of which we have already rejected. I felt the squad needed a shake up'.

'The Courvoisier / Ball Cupping Brace'

Erotic Instructions:

Bitches! You can start this inverted delight by lying flat on the ground face up. At this point, if your better half thinks you're a hippocroccopig, do the decent thing and put a plain paper bag over your head with due care taken to gouge out a couple of eye sockets so you can see any slight eyebrow raising on his behalf and take immediate action to obey whatever request he next requires.

With your hands supporting your lower back, lift your legs and backside way, way up (this may require a HGV carjack or industrial sack trucks) so they're as perpendicular to the ground as you can get them. Kindly beg your man/master/beast to kneel before you, grab your ankles, and bring his knees to your shoulders. Then take his hands and ask him, in your most grateful and pleading voice, to hold your hips — that will steady you both. Hold his thighs for leverage and adjust so your genitals can join for some otherworldly upside-down action of which you had better hope he gets all of the pleasure.

Carnal Challenge

Why Your Man Will Love It!

Bitches Fucking Note!! Don't be at all selfish or concerned about your own pleasure!

Getting into this position, you may feel like you're headed nowhere — but it's totally worth it as your man/master/hound will have his hands free to partake in the added pleasure of a warming glass of Courvoisier that you had better already have prepared immediately within his grasp beforehand!. The blood rush from your thighs will intensify the sensations in the pelvic region. Plus, your legs are squeezed together over his shoulders, which guarantee a snug, scintillating fit for him.

If you are fortunate enough to have female staff on hand an added pleasure to complete the hat trick you so thoroughly deserve it is strongly recommended by 'Magic' to have one very lucky chosen member of your pantry scrubbers to dress in an Edwardian fashion and cup your scrotum to alleviate the weight. If the 'cupping' hand is clad in an elbow lengthed silk glove this can enhance his pleasure tenfold.

Once he is well on his way, pulse your legs ever-so-slightly. The added thigh movement will give him an extra rush in this already tight fit. Thrust your hips into his groin and arch your back as you move with him, turning you into a vibrating vixen which he could easily but probably won't resist. Upon, and only upon, his signal that he is done with you waste no time in replenishing his glass with more of his favoured tippie, after all he has given up part of his day in your presence that you have probably not paid for!) before thanking him profusely and returning to the kitchen to catch up on the chores that have built up in your selfish period of rest on your back.

Park Boss Cautious About Cup Draw

"Ideally this is a team we would like to avoid as long as possible" said Park boss Mitchell referring to his sides draw against current champions Irish Raiders "but if you want to win the cup you simply have to play these teams so you may as well play them in round one than in the final, it makes no difference" he continued. "Its a great draw for the League, as not only will Park or Raiders go out, but also Machine have a tricky tie against league leaders Wanderers. The so-called smaller teams will be smiling from ear to ear at the draw because it puts everyone in the running for silverware" concluded Mitchell.

McFletch Faces Foreign Foe

McFletch expressed satisfaction with the recent cup draw stating, "We all know that in the cup you have to beat the best teams and we have certainly come up against one of the best in DUAO. They will be determined to defend their cup but we'll be going all out to beat the Northern scum. The travelling to Wookie's Hole is always a bit of a pain but we have a team with the mental strength to get through this' Positive words from a manager who has yet to win a cup tie. The smart money will be on DUAO to progress to the next round.

Duao Undeterred By Cup Clash

Asked to comment on his upcoming Cup Tie, DUAO Manager Wookie responded:

"The Perry Ten? Did no one tell them this is a game of eleven players!

Ohh the Perry Men...never heard of them, they must be playing in that lower league. Well at least they'll get some money from their gate returns when we come to visit, it'll probably double their earnings this season which should go some way to cheering them up after we've annihilated them on the pitch.

Of course I'm a charitable man and I'll be sure to field a second eleven to at least give them a chance of touching the ball.

Chieftan Looks Forward To Clash

Dark Destroyers supremo the 'Chieftan' is looking forward to this weekends cup-tie against old adversary and fellow pool-playing maestro Wazzy. Its been a while since we met and we look forward to welcoming his team to "Doom". Our pitch is in a bit of a state though at the moment - covered in dogshit etc. so if they want to bring mo milorn along to tidy it up a bit they are welcome. Before that however we have an important league match at Essex Wanderers. They may be bottom and without a point but they have only lost by narrow margins and will be keen to get off the mark against us so we will have to be spot-on with our tactics and approach.

Yours sincerely -

After their opening day shock defeat the Irish Raiders are well and truly back on track and still in touching distance at the top. Although only three points behind them the Red Machine have lost their last two matches and a defeat here could see them nine points off the pace and although its early days it will be a difference which could prove unattainable.

The Rising Deck - Hell Hounds

Both of these clubs have had a great start to the season but both slipped up last week. I say slipped up because one match doesnt make or break a season. TWO slip-ups in succession however could trigger a valuable loss of consistency which could jeopardise both of these clubs chances of promotion.

LS Prediction: The Rising Decks Premiership experience should be enough.
