Six goals in the second half proved to be enough for Irish Raiders against a Temple Town side still searching for their first win.

Last seasons champions are finally putting a little consistency together and are still within touching distance, just, of retaining the title. In a tight and tense first half there was little to choose between the two sides and there was no indication on what was to follow in the second half.

Seymour Conden got the goal-feast underway when he headed in Sol Reeves' corner with just two minutes played in the second half. The lead was doubled after 55 minutes when Errol Jordan netted from the penalty spot after Conden had been tripped in the box. It was all over on the hour as a set-piece free-kick saw Conden provide an opportunity for Sol Reeves to head home.

The visitors did threaten a come back, particularly when Ernesto Verdasco created an opening for Joel Wigglesworth to fire home a long range effort. Temple Town managed to pull the game back to 3-2 when Wigglesworth once again found the top corner, this time following good work from Stanley Mathews.

The come-back was short-lived however, and with the match heading for a tense finish Reeves once again turned provider for the home side as he crossed for Raymond Coote to fire home number four to make it 4-2 to Irish Raiders.

Bollocks to the League Supreme League

We are top of the fair play league! that's all that matters, we are gentleman like in defeat more than can be said for shit called Egg Shell.

Top of the league, top of the league! I honestly have lost the will to live as whatever we do the team doesn't win, at least we scored 2 today!

Down Under And Out continue to be the side most likely to catch run away leaders Westcountry Wanderers as they comfortably beat an Essex Wanderers side, without a win, heading for a swift return to Division One.

It didn't take long for the side in second place to start the ball rolling with Daniel Kibble putting Vinnie Steele through to make it 1-0 after just 3 minutes. The home side dominated the first half and made the pressure count when, six minutes before half time Joe Teale crossed for Andy Blackmooor to head home to double the home sides lead.

The second half continued in the same vein with the visitors unable to match the home sides attacking force. Just before the hour Payton Whiteside crossed for Wayne Manger to make it 3-0. With the match all but over DUAO were still not finished. Whiteside once again turning provider, this time setting up Teale to make it 4-0 and three points in the bag to keep the pressure on Westcountry at the top..

There is still no stopping Westcountry Wanderers at the top of the league as they made it a record-breaking six straight wins at the opening of a Premiership season.

The home side and league leaders were good value for their win against Park. They outplayed their tense visitors and clearly had the lions share of possession and chances. The all important break through came after 34 minutes when Cliff Hedger crossed for Gaspar Aguado to head home to make it 1-0, which turned out to be the eventual match winner. Park upped their game a little in the second half and both sides created few chances. Hewys side remain top of the league having only conceded two goals in six games.

Win The League Westcountry

Egloshayle Park were the latest casualties of the seemingly unstoppable Westcountry Wanderers after which the manager said "Now go and win the league Hewy boy".

"it just shows what can be achieved with consistency"

Westcountry won the tight match 1-0, inflicting a second defeat for Park. "It IS frustrating yes, as the two games we have lost have been against top sides offering win bonuses, I think that has been the difference, money. It is frustrating not being able to spend any money this season and offer winning incentives, but i have been assured by the board this will allow us to buy pre-season and come back strong for next season." said Mitchell.

"Westcountry have done amazing and are perfect role-models for all teams in Division One. As Raiders before them, it just goes to show what can be achieved with consistency. They have my full support and best wishes to go and win the league in season six." he concluded.

Honours were even at the Temple Of Doom in a goalless draw which will suit neither side, although Destroyers will be slightly the happier.

Destroyers, who are the draw specialists in the league, could not muster a single chance in the first half, but Machine could not convert either of theirs. With both sides cancelling each other out this was little of a spectacle. Red Machine, who had high hopes of challenging at the top, have now conceded that their league priorities have changed and now, along with Destroyers, will concentrate on staying in top flight football. Both these sides will breathe easy knowing that Temple Town and Essex Wanderers show no sign of bridging the gap at the bottom and at the moment, do not provide any real threat.

Mangatainoka Reach For Promotion Spot

Lluis Duque and Roger Gidlof celebrate Mangatainokas 93rd minute winner.

Perry dominated possession, but we created more with the ball we had. That shows how much this young team is progressing also we are only 1 point off the total we picked up last season & we are not even half way through this season.

Lets hope the might blues can also grab a last minute winner to all but seal the title & dash Tottenham's chance of a top 4 finish.

The Mangos nicked a late goal to put an end to The Perry Men's unbeaten start to the league.

McFletch although disappointed was not down-hearted, 'Our players dominated possession away from home but failed to put away the first half chances. They came back into in the second half and in the end they put one of their many chance away. We cling on to 2nd place but must improve'. Meanwhile the Mangi's manager demonstrated abysmal prohesising talents as the exact opposite happenend to his forecast. Like The Perry Men, the mouse-like Blues let Mangatainoka FC became the first side to inflict defeat on the Perry Men this season and as a result look to be the side most likely to break into the top two.

The visitors dominated play in the first half and restricted the home side to not being able to create a single chance. Although The Perry Men still slightly edged the possession in the second half Mangatainoka created chance after chance in the second half. Just as it looked as though they were never going to score a Lluis Duque cross found Roger Gidlof at the far post in the third minute of injury time to snatch an all important three points for Jareds side. Mangatainoka are now a solitary point behind a promotion spot and with the top two meeting this week, have every chance of making an impression.

Blues Showing Signs Of Successful Re-Birth

 Super Blues	1
 Down By The Trent	1

Possession: 48 - 52 (51-49)
Chances: 4 - 6 (1-1)
Home - Man Of The Match - Away
Martin Reuser Robert Houdin

Although still bottom of the league the Super Blues are showing a glimmer of future form which indicates a turn around in fortune is close on the horizon.

In an even first half there was nothing to choose between the two sides. Chances were very few and far between with both sides only managing a chance in each half. This was enough, however for Super Blues. A 21st minute cross from Ronaldo Funcao found Ross Purse unmarked at the far post to give the bottom side an 1-0 half-time lead.

The second half continued where the first half left off with nothing to choose between the sides. However, this time it was Down By The Trent to convert their one and only chance. This time it was Evaristo Cortes' 75th minute corner which fell loose to James Hooper to fire home from close range to snatch a point for Phil Jorys men.

Point Gained

 DBTT manager Phil Jory was more than satisfied with his sides draw at Super Blues commenting "I think they will become an improving side and we will look back at this as a point gained"

With regards to the fictitious world of the "Championship" Jory was cock-a-hoop (cock a hula hoop for MM!) over Forest's amazing season that has seen them reach the play-offs adding "hopefully, we can get a result at Blackpool on Sat as they seem a bogey team and I don't fancy meeting them in the play offs. That said they have the pressure this Sat and, although Forest shall be resting players, my gut feeling is that we are coming into form again after a stuttering 2010."

Deck Looking For A Swift Return

 The Rising Deck	1
 FC Wazzy	0

Possession: 49 - 51 (44-56)
Chances: 5 - 6 (3-4)
Home - Man Of The Match - Away
Penn Jillette Benedict Bayley

The Rising Deck look firmly on course for a quick return to top flight football following this 1-0 win against FC Wazzy which leaves Magic Mitchs Men four points clear at the top.

The Deck against Wazzy at The Orpheum was a great advertisement for free-flowing football with both sides enjoying a fair share of the possession and created chances in each half. The all important breakthrough came in the 65th minute when Penn Jillette dispossessed Lamego on the edge of the Wazzy box and put through David Blaine who side footed his shot past Norton to give Deck all three points and daylight between them and second placed Perry Men.

"I think they will become an improving side and . . . this is a point gained"

All Honours Even At Wellington

 Wellington Wanderers	2
 Hell Hounds	2

Possession: 52 - 48 (52-48)
Chances: 5 - 4 (1-2)
Home - Man Of The Match - Away
Esko Jäämaa Jude Attenborough

Both Wellington and Hell Hounds had identical records before the match and both had identical records after the match thanks to an Edgar Meadows equaliser for Hell Hounds, five minutes from time.

As expected there was little to choose between either side in the match. The home side started the scoring when Ruben Benavents corner was flicked in at an unmarked near post by Bertram Paynter after only seven minutes. Just five minutes remained of the first half when the visitors drew level, Norman Buchanan heading in an Alan Coles cross to ensure both sides went in 1-1 at the break.

Wellington were again the first to take the initiative in the half. Nicholas Kavanaugh crossing, this time for Nathan Doherty to head home to once again put the home side ahead. But, just as the first half, it was a goal five minutes from the whistle that prevented the win. Jude Attenborough created the opening for Meadows to equalise for Hounds.

A Press Release

McFletch chose to ignore the inane comments from DUAO manager after The Perry Men went out of the cup continuing a 100% losing run in the cup. 'We are fully focused on return to the Premiership and going out the cup early on allows us to concentrate on that task. We have a tough away game to the Manky tinkers and we will be glad if we come away from their place with another point, but we shall see.'

Penalty Miss

Further to TT manager's rant earlier today. The manager officially wrote to the higher league admin for an explanation as to the lack of penalties. He accepts that a miracle was needed to beat Norwich, but all the same.

League admin have responded and accepted there was an error within the game. Hence TT was perfectly correct to complain to that little wanker mitch! How did the visit to London go and magic examination, (of the tiny MM's penis)?

Don't tell us they told you that you don't need to wear your triple thick glasses, hence everything looks so big!

Egg shell is still a homeless cock though! Hubes has at last served the eviction notice.

MM Uncovered

Aside from computer "mock-ups" here is the first real "in the flesh" picture of MM's penis (albeit not a full frontal). The Jury, and not just me, is undecided as to whether this is smeg or fanny batter on the outside?!

Scummy Cock

After just recovering from the horror of Mitch's schlong close up posted yesterday. I truly hope that wasn't residue left by Mrs A. Robinson in some ginge on ginge action! Either that or is this the state of your personal hygiene at present michty boy after being evicted?! I don't know how Hewy could do it to you. I understand he may have a butler job goign at his new pad though for you?

On the penalty subject, I didn't bother checking that closeley as I was 4 v 0 up but will let the banter flow between Tango and Egg. What does amaze me is how I can win 4 v 0 with a mixture of low skill players and youngsters against a better skilled team but can't get even a fucking draw in the league!

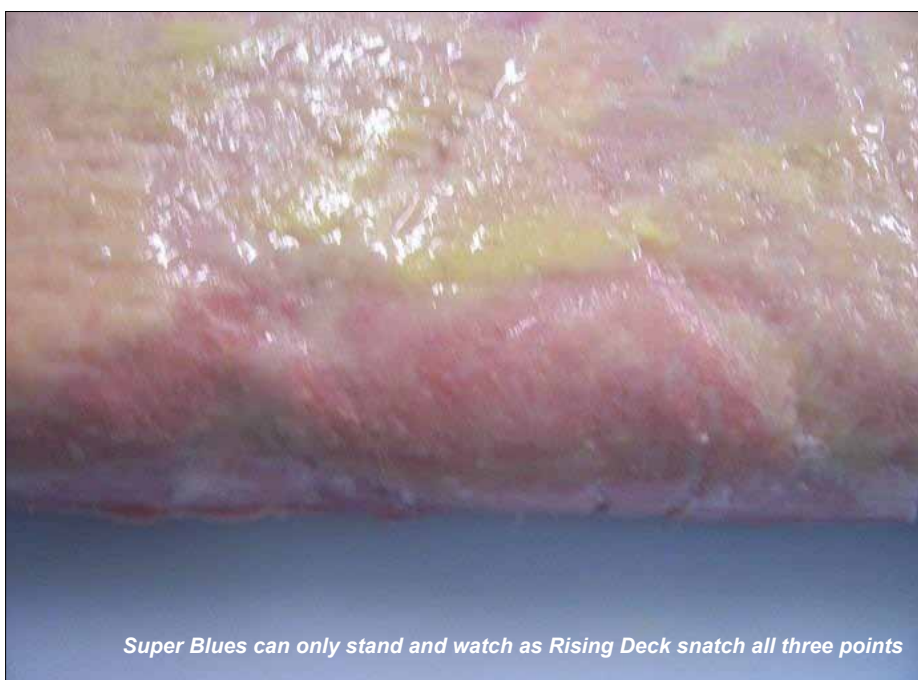

Muhren should have his nads removed via a rusty razor blade and the chant of Judas will be waiting for him in the return fixture.

That said, form is picking up and the new signings seem to be mixing well. We don't expect miracles this season.

For Sale

Gerry Oldfield, has goal instinct, 20 years of age, no oher attributes, skill of 4. Is on the market as I need to clear out the squad and have other youngsters in the squad. No hidden agenda, he is actually estimated to be worth 800,000 so wil consider any bids around that mark.

Mangi gets done by late goals

Mangi manager is not happy at all with our teams recent inability to finish off games.

2-0 up with the game in the bag, but then arrived the 88th minute & within 2 minutes the deck were level & went through on away goals rule. But he did have more possession & attempts but we have equaled our clubs record of 4 games without defeat. I guess now we can have a few friendlies & concentrate on making sure all our players reach the 100% match experience.

But one good new this week was the signing of Stelin Stoicu. I think the first ever time the scouts have actually done their job as we paid 1.7m for a player valued at 5.4m. Our defence has been pretty average this season & this signing will help not only this year but in the seasons to follow.

The hardest part of this tie is to come

Erotic Instructions:

Lie face down on top of a washing machine or other 'white goods' purchase that you should be all too familiar with on a daily basis with your feet flat on the floor (if you're short, try standing on a phone book. This should be nearby as hopefully an Indian or Chinese would have been ordered within the last 2 hours or the immediate 10 minutes after this male chore about to be dealt upon you). If, for some unexplainably bizarre reason you don't have a phonebook nearby then I thoroughly recommend that you PLAN AHEAD & MAKE TIME to buy some of the 'Works Of Geoffrey Chaucer' such as Treatise on The Astrolabe, Merciles Beaute or Troilus and Criseyde (Windeatts Edition !) These marvellous volumes of 'Prose' can be used individually or as a 2 or 3 step aid to your partners height deficiency and make an excellent perusal when retiring to the drawing room after the frivolities have ended !

Have your guy stand facing your behind (probably a better view), between your legs. Once you're going at it, turn on the machine. Have him lean forward so that his thighs are pressed against you. The vibrations will rock through his entire body.

Please Note: As he will undoubtedly be holding a glass of Courvoisier be sure to wait until he's had a good mouthful before turning on the machine as it will lessen the shock of the sudden vibration and also lessen the chance of any precious golden droplets being spilt.

Carnal Challenge

Why You'll Love It:

The vibrations will feel delicious against your bare body. And every time the machine changes cycles, you'll experience a different sensation. In addition to the shaking, the surface of the washer will create a scintillating heat coming from below. (Just be sure to set the washer on a hot-water cycle.) Colourfast cottons are recommended to be used but be sure to steer clear of the Acrylics & Wool mixtures as this is slightly cooler and may reduce the size of the manhood (in my case down to a mere 9 inches !).

As this 'killing two birds with one stone' scenario will save you time it will leave the rest of the evening free to catch up with the ironing and should also leave 15 minutes for a quick dusting of the Drawing Room wearing your most tight fitting French Maid outfit.

Many thanks for the letters of praise for last weeks Living Room Treat. This week I've gone to the unusual practice of granting a request from Lord Nicholas Culpeper. He offered me the challenge of coming up with a position for the Laundry Room that would appeal to the 'Upper Class' as opposed to those of us that are 'Unhorsed & Bootless'

 Returning from a 4 day bender at the ITM Hamilton V8's, Wookie was met with the shock news that the Deck got 2 past DUAO keeper, Olivio Bonilha, in their Cup encounter.

"It's not the news I need right now in this fragile physical and mental state. Both my body and mind feel like they've been raped and pillaged and that's before I got the news of MM's bashing at Wookie Hole! With their keeper fucked I expected to give them a proper kicking by putting several past them, so I'm obviously thoroughly disappointed with the lads' performance in my absence.
