Newcomers All Whites Up To Second

Whites Up To Second, Owens Irish Hat-trick. Tetes Hat-trick Puts Essex Top

Premiership Round-Up

DUAO win once more in week 3 and are 3 points clear. All Whites leap to second following a 3-1 at The Deck. At the bottom Raiders grab their first win against pointless Park. Tetes hat-trick for Essex sees them top Division One on goal difference as 5 teams currently occupy the lead. At the bottom Wazzys first win leaves Trent at the bottom of the league.

Holdsworth Brace Gives Whites Win

Next up is McFletch and his Perry Men and I'll play 11-0-0 and defensive and see if I get any more chances region after the game and can confirm I still have the biggest cock.

Top five footballers of the season named: Giggs, Cort, Given, Thomas, De Koch MM ;)

Got to say it was good to get one over you after last season. Its a long season with no easy games so i'm sure you'll make your way up the table

P.s. Several women checked my pant

Win

A stunning away win for the All Whites makes it two from two. With six chances to one away from home the win was in the bag long before Marshland was sent off in the 85th minute. Two goals for Holdsworth and a direct freekick sealed the win. Next up are the Irish Raiders in a second consecutive away match.

Any news when the cup begins?

Positive tactics= 1 chance.

Bullshit!

A stunned Rising Deck manager let fly following their second loss on the bounce.

" At home, offensive tactics and we get one chance....in the 90th minute!!!....It fucking stinks!! We take nothing away from Mr.Frost (also a non VIP er. Admiration my fellow honourable gent) They came and got three goals which doesn't come by luck but I'm absolutely disgusted by this Stephen Hawking operated Xpert11 software. Cunts!"

McFletch

The Perry Men failed to get their first win of the season against a well prepared DUAO. McFletch stated, 'It was always going to be tough with two of our key players missing. They had more clear cut chances and deserved the win. We have a difficult run of fixtures this season as we now have 2 away games again. I don't know who arranged these fixtures but one home game in 5, and that against the three time champions, doesn't really do us any favours. We'll just need to make sure we have a strong second half of the season. We're used to being in this position but I honestly think we have a stronger team this year and we believe the results will start coming in' Defiant words from The Perry Men manager but the board and fans have heard it all before, it's time to show it on the pitch.

DUAO Looking Hot on the Road

No we're not talking about the go faster stripes on the side of the team coach. DUAO's first away game of the season and another masterclass in football ensued, leading to another 3 points in the bag for DUAO and another Manager wondering just what they have to take points off DUAO this season.

Manger Wookie was giving nothing away...

To their credit, the Perry Men did at least manage to exploit some of DUAO's weaknesses and were rewarded with a goal for their efforts.

Momentum Lost

With two wins from the opening two games, all was looking rosie when the Machine hosted The Tui girls at the Cauldron.

"I got my tactics completely wrong and played into the hands of our opposition today. It was a shame for us to lose momentum, especially with the mighty DUAO up next. It'll be down to me to pick the players up and restore their confidence."

"We were given a way back into the game by their own goal, but then we go and give away a soft penalty. Add to that we couldn't put away any of our chances, it was a day to put behind us."

Pointless

Eglosayle Park boss was left scratching his head at his teams sudden loss of form and joined others in whinging about the fixture list.

"I know we all have to play each other once at home and once away, but form and confidence seems to be huge in this league. We will be playing our third away game in a row on Thursday and when the chips are down its so difficult to pick up points. It means we will have a rub of away games yes, but by then it may be too late" whinged Mitchell.

Park, along with Red Machine are the only 2 sides who have existed in the Premiership since the league was formed and unless Park can change their form drastically, it could be just Machine that are left.

Lowest of lows

The 2-0 reverse against bitter local arch rivals the Wazza's was the next chapter in a catastrophic start to DBTT's season. "Holy mother fucking wank" was manager Jory's outburst after his side created a fat zero chances in the back garden - pitiful. Maybe i should stop these press releases and face Titch Mitch's axe!?

Temple Trashed By West Country Wanderers

A bad day at the office for Temple Town who were comprehensively taken apart by a very impressive WCW side.

Manager Barker says:

In all honesty, it could have been a lot worse as our boys took a proper drubbing. What with injuries and bans to key players picked up in this match as well, these are going to be difficult times coming up, so we are going to have to dig deep into the squad.

Destroyers Fightback Stuns Wellington

Despite dominating the game, Wellington Wanderers were rocked as the Dark Destroyers produced a superb comeback. With the majority of chances and possession going to Wanderers, goals from Jones and Rowson won the game for the away team and left Mark Eggins scratching his head. After the game Eggins praised the Destroyers manager claiming he'd been out thought tactically.

Scarlett Johansson

Starlet Johansson: Scarlett sexed up the screen and diverted attention from Josh "fedora" Hartnett's predictably pooppy acting in The Black Dahlia, the gloomy movie based on the crime noir novel that explores the macabre actual murder of a Hollywood beauty. Fortunately for us, Scarlett makes it out alive.
